COUNCIL OF FOUR TAKES UP TREATY TO BE PRESENTED SOON TO AUSTRIA

Orlando Takes Part in Deliberations — Indemnity of $1,000,000,000 Will Be Demanded — Terms Have Begun to Take Form.

GERMAN TREATY SENT BY COURIER TO BERLIN

Wilson Expected to Submit to Congress Request That America Become Mandatory for Armenia.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, May 8.—The Council of Four, with Premier Orlando of Italy present, began today to arrange the program for the presentation of peace terms to the Austrian, Hungarian and Bulgarian delegates. The Austrian treaty has begun to take form. Portions of it already have been drafted.

The French Foreign Office received information late today that the Austrian peace delegation had left Vienna last night and would reach St. Germain, a suburb of Paris, probably tomorrow.

It appears that, instead of Germany being required to pay the entire indemnity demanded by the allies, a considerable sum will be demanded from Austria, the estimate of this sum at present being $900,000,000 ($1,000,000,000).

This indemnity provision, and the delineation of the frontiers of the new state will be the main features of the treaty now in making. Provision is to be made for dividing Austria-Hungary's pre-war debt among the new states formed from territory formerly belonging to that empire. The frontiers between Germany and Austria and Italy, and probably the Adriatic settlement also will figure in the Austrian treaty.

Two Germans to Go Home.
Intimations reached by the peace conference from Versailles led to the belief that two or three members of the German peace delegation probably will return to Germany to consult their Government, the others remaining at Versailles.

Germany has not yet submitted any communication with regard to the peace treaty.

All the exchanges between the delegation at Versailles and the home Government are being kept secret.

A copy of the treaty is well on its way to Berlin. A German courier departed at 9 o'clock last night bearing it with Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau's first report on the negotiations.

It is expected that the United States will be asked to become the mandatory for Armenia. The indications are that President Wilson will submit the matter to Congress.

There is no intimation that President Wilson contemplates hastening his return because of the convocation of Congress on May 19 and he undoubtedly will remain here through the period of 15 days allowed the Germans for consideration of the peace terms, probably until the treaty is signed.

In case the negotiations are prolonged by suggestions advanced by the Germans it is possible he may forego the satisfaction of signing the treaty and return home. It is expected that he will send a message to be read in his absence.

Thomas Nelson Page, the American Ambassador to Italy, notified the American delegation to the peace conference today that he was starting from Rome to Paris this morning. The Ambassador reported that he had had a long conference with the French Ambassador at Rome over the Adriatic question.

The full text of the peace treaty with Germany will be published until after it has been signed, the Echo De Paris says today. The document will then be presented to the Parliament for ratification, probably about the 4th or 5th of June.

The general comment of the Paris newspapers on the treaty is that in it the honor of France has been satisfied and the efforts of its authors to give satisfaction to the legitimate claims to the things wrought by German oppressions are acknowledged. In some quarters the hint of the head of the German peace delegation that Germany would try to obtain the right to carry out herself the restoration of the devastated districts of France and Belgium is interpreted as being made with

ABSENCE OF POMP ADDED TO IMPRESSIVENESS OF PEACE CONGRESS OPENING

Rantau's Remarks Apparently Aroused President and Allied Leaders—Remained Seated, Possibly Owing to Illness.

By the Associated Press.
VERSAILLES, Wednesday, May 7.—The scene at today's session of the peace congress, when the terms of the treaty were presented to the German delegates, was an impressive one, and the function was not without its tense moments. Indeed, the entire half hour which it took Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau to deliver his reply to Premier Clemenceau was a period of tension for President Wilson, Premier Clemenceau and Premier Lloyd George, and, in fact, for virtually the entire present.

The speech was translated sentence by sentence by the German interpreters, who did not fail to bring out with full emphasis every sharp phrase in it, and the three allied statesmen put their heads together in evident anger at more than one of the German spokesman's cutting utterances, as if they were deliberating upon the advisability of an immediate answer.

The program was unaltered, however, and when the German plenipotentiary had finished Premier Clemenceau arose and put the customary phrase: "Has anyone further observations to make?" and when there was no response, continued: "I then declare the session closed." The allied triumvirate remained after the German delegates had departed for a half-hour discussion of the new situation.

No Pomp and Gilt.
The scene within the hall during the ceremony had none of the pomp and glitter of earlier peace conferences—no display of court and military uniforms such as marked the congresses of Berlin and Vienna, no theatrical ceremonial. It seemed to gain in impressiveness, however, by these very circumstances.

At the head of the table the striking faces of Premiers Clemenceau and Lloyd George and President Wilson attracted every eye. Marshal Foch, sitting with the French delegation at the head of the side tables, was another conspicuous figure. The bearded faces of the Serbian statesmen, M. Pachtich and the Greek family headed by King Constantine, the Polish Premier, also stood out from the mass of delegates. The impassive faces of the Japanese representatives, the Oriental lineaments of the Chinese, the brown countenances of the Arabs from Hedjaz, and the presence even of the two delegates from Liberia and Haiti gave evidence that this was really a world congress.

The Germans, who entered the chamber with all the confidence of victors, bore themselves without a trace of consciousness and acted as if they were taking part in the deliberations on equal terms with their adversaries.

The ceremony which attracted a half a million of correspondents and officials, who began writing at an early hour, started at 2:30 o'clock, when servants brought in huge armfuls of the printed conditions of peace and distributed them, one copy to each delegation, around the long low rectangle. The Germans only were exempted, their copy being delivered to them at 3:17 o'clock, during the translation of Premier Clemenceau's speech.

At 2:25 o'clock Premier Clemenceau and Stephen Pichon, the French Foreign Minister, entered for a final survey of the arrangements and then left to await the arrival of President Wilson. Secretary of State Lansing also appeared for an instant at 2:30 o'clock. The minor delegates now were streaming into the room and virtually all were assembled in their places when at 2:55 o'clock President Wilson, accompanied by other American delegates and Premiers Clemenceau and Lloyd George, entered together and moved informally to their places at the head of the table.

Premier Orlando and Foreign Minister Sonnino of Italy followed an instant later. Both of them walked over to shake hands with President Wilson and Premier Clemenceau before seeking their places.

While the assemblage was seating itself, Premier Clemenceau and President Wilson engaged in an animated conversation. Premier Lloyd George and Arthur J. Balfour, the British Foreign Secretary, also indulged in a chat. Premier Paderewski during this interlude made a belated appearance.

After a five-minute wait Col. Henry, the French liaison officer, appeared in the chamber, heralding the approach of the German delegation. The Germans entered the door an instant later, preceded by a functionary of the French Government wearing the glittering chain of his office, who announced in a loud voice: "Messieurs, the German delegates."

There was some little confusion among the Germans while they were finding their proper places. Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, who entered, gloves in hand, took the center chair, with his first colleague, Director von Stockhammer of the Foreign Office, flanking him on either hand. Five German secretaries and their interpreters took their places at tables in the rear of the Congress, then arose and declared the session opened. He started immediately upon his opening speech.

German Translation Poor.
He paused to permit this to be translated into English and German by French interpreters. The translation into English was defective, and the German translation was faulty and halting. The Premier then addressed the Germans again to explain the conditions of the negotiations, telling them that there would be no oral discussion permitted, and that they must submit their observations in writing within 15 days. The Premier then read the headings of the treaty and made his suggestion that the Germans within a few days might be ready to discuss the discussion of certain sections of the treaty.

When the Premier concluded with the customary phrase, "Has anyone observations to make?" Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau raised his hand but he was not recognized until the Premier's remarks had been translated.

During the translation, Paul Duta, the general secretary of the assemblage, proceeded almost unnoticed across the open space in the center of the rectangle and deposited a copy of the peace treaty before the head of the German delegation.

Count Brockdorff-Rantzau has the honor of the German delegation. The head of the German delegation did not arise, like Premier Clemenceau, reading his speech sitting, but it was remarked by some that this apparent discourtesy to his adversaries was dictated by his physical condition.

After the first sentence of the Count's speech had been delivered in German an interpreter began the French translation. The words did not reach the head of the table distinctly and Premier Clemenceau called for a louder utterance. He was equally dissatisfied with the second.

SALARY GRAB BILL JAMMED THROUGH BY BOGUS VOTES

Members of the State Legislature Who Were Not Present at the Session Recorded as Voting for It.

SOME VOICE CALLS "AYE" FOR SEVERAL

Trick Is Discovered, but Not in Time—Raises Nearly All Clerks' Salaries at the State Capital.

JEFFERSON CITY, May 8.—The champion "salary grab" bill of this legislative session, in fact of all other sessions, was jammed through the House last night with a bare constitutional majority. The names of absent members were voted on the roll call even, in an effort to assure the passage of the bill. In fact, because of the evidence of "stuffing," the vote which was discovered and exposed by Speaker O'Fallon, there is no way of knowing even now whether the bill received a constitutional majority.

The bill increases the salaries of almost every clerk in the state capital, and unless the Governor vetoes it will cost the State a quarter of a million dollars for each biennial period.

The roll was called after a bitter debate, in which Floor Leader Dyott called attention to the fact that the State is not able to take care of its blind, and declared that patients died in State eleemosynary institutions during the last two years because there were not sufficient hospital facilities.

Clark Becomes Suspicious.
During the calling of the roll the clerk noticed that "aye" votes were being called from places other than the men who were in the chamber. He was called and the speaker asked suspiciously like the same voice each time.

At the close of the roll call Speaker O'Fallon rose, his eyes down the center aisle and asked how Representative Sapp of Boone County had voted.

A member sitting near Sapp's desk rose and said he had left the afternoon session and had not returned to the chamber. A voice had answered "aye" when Sapp's name was called and the clerk had returned to his seat.

The speaker then turned to Representative Carpenter's desk and asked how he had voted. He was told Carpenter had not been in the chamber for hours. A voice also had answered "aye" for Carpenter.

The verification of the roll was called and Representative Clark of Ray County corrected the record by saying he had voted "no," though Clark's name was called. The same thing had occurred in the case of Representative Evans of Washington County. Both Evans and Clark usually vote in a low tone of voice.

When Sapp's name was called, it was found that the bill had received 72, barely enough to pass it, with none to spare. It was not possible to tell how many other bogus votes had been cast as members were continually entering and leaving the chamber.

Called "Omnibus Salary Bill."
The bill which was branded as the "omnibus salary bill" by Representative Cave in debate, was defeated in the House Tuesday. Before the bill was called up for passage on the first attempt the lobby of clerks from the State offices, especially the offices of Auditor Hackman, a Republican, and Secretary of State Sullivan, a Democrat, had been active, but when it was defeated they became doubly active.

Eugene Stephens, chief clerk, and other clerks in Hackman's office, were active on the legislative floor of the Capitol. James O'Connor, registrar of automobiles in Sullivan's office; Larry H. Powers, Sullivan's chief clerk; Russell Holman, supply clerk, both in Sullivan's office, and Horace Clay, a clerk in the banking department, were active in urging the passage of the bill.

To Sullivan's clerks had been declared the task of keeping Democrats in line, while Hackman's office worked on the Republicans, though the floor leader was against them. The influence of Hackman's office is the more powerful, because Stephens, as Hackman's chief clerk, passes upon all of the legislative scrip and issues warrants for the salaries of members of the Legislature.

WILSON TO CABLE MESSAGE TO EXTRA CONGRESS SESSION

Belief in Washington That President Will Not Come Home Before June.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 8.—As President Wilson will not be present at the opening of the special session of Congress on May 19, he will cable his message from Paris and it will be read immediately after Congress convenes. This was announced today at the White House.

Cable advice received at the White House today indicate that the President will not hasten his return to Washington because of the extra session. There was no intimation as to when he expected to return to the United States, but the general belief now is that this will not be before June 1.

Not within the memory of the oldest attaché at the White House has a Congress met with the President absent from Washington, and it was said that this would be the first time that the executive ever had sent his message to Congress by wire.

'VICTORY LOAN IS ARGONNE FOR STAY-AT-HOMES,' GLASS SAYS

Proclamation Setting Aside Today as Army Day Praised Doughboys' Fighting Just Prior to Nov. 11.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 8.—Secretary Glass' proclamation declaring today "Army day" in the loan campaign follows:

"In the early days of last November, when it was apparent that the enemy armies were falling, American youths in khaki throughout the Argonne fought on, never contemplating the possibility that the war might be won without their aid. They fought on for no loss of arms or legs or lives. It calls only for dollars to be lent and repaid. Will Americans at home lag or shrink?"

The Victory Liberty Loan is the Argonne of the home front. It is their last big war task. It calls on them for no loss of arms or legs or lives. It calls only for dollars to be lent and repaid. Will Americans at home lag or shrink?"

The answer will be known when Victory Loan dollars are counted, and but three days remain in which to pour them in. One of these days should be set aside for honor to the men who won the American army. We will do honor in the contribution of material things, and our sacrifices, however great, can never approach those of the men in khaki.

Yet we will do our part, and with our dollars shall do fervent prayers of thanks to the men of the army.

"Therefore, I propose that Thursday, May 8, be set aside by all communities as 'Army day.' On this day let each man and woman who ranks as a shareholder in this free republic pledge to the Victory Liberty Loan the largest sum his ability permits. Let every civilian have the right to say in future retrospection: 'Mine was not to fight, but I did my utmost.'"

New reports of subscriptions today sent the nation's total above $2,500,000,000.

CLEMENCY FOR ST. LOUIS CONVICTED IN ESPIONAGE CASE

The name of Thomas Carnell, a former salesman, who lived at 2713 Caroline street, appears in a list given over in Washington today of 39 persons convicted during the war for violation of the espionage act, who have been granted clemency by President Wilson. His two-year sentence was reduced to a year and a day.

Carnell was the first person tried in St. Louis under the espionage act. The charge was based on a speech he made to a Socialist ward organization at the Roosevelt School, Aug. 28, 1917. Seven witnesses testified that he said: "This is a rich man's war. A poor man has no business in it. A man who is drafted doesn't have to go into the army and he's a fool if he does."

Carnell was sentenced to two years in Leavenworth Penitentiary in October, 1917, but he took an appeal and did not begin serving his time until Feb. 11 last, after the United States Court of Appeals had dismissed his appeal. Counting the five days off each month which Federal prisoners are allowed, Carnell's time off under the clemency term of the act would total 60 days, so that he probably will be released about Dec. 11.

HUNGARIANS DECIDE TO FIGHT

Armistice Terms Offered by Rumania Reported Refused.

By the Associated Press.
COPENHAGEN, May 8.—The Hungarian Communist Government has refused the armistice terms offered by Rumania and has decided to fight to the utmost, a dispatch from Budapest says.

In reply to the Hungarian request for an armistice, the Rumanian Government demanded the disarmament of the forces fighting against Rumania and her allies in the present operation, the surrender of war material and the return of prisoners and hostages without reciprocity. It was added that until the terms were fulfilled Rumania would occupy the right bank of the Theiss River to a depth of 12 miles.

The WANTS are close to the home life of thousands—they seek opportunity in them every day.

LEGION DELEGATES PLAN PLUNGE INTO NATIONAL ISSUES

Head of California Representation Asserts He Will Start Discussion of Prohibition.

IDAHO AND UTAH MEN WANT LANDS OPENED

Temporary Officers of Body Hope to Confine Caucus to Organization — First Session This Afternoon.

Statements of arriving delegates to the three-day caucus of the American Legion, which opens this afternoon in the Shubert-Jefferson Theater, make it apparent that Lieutenant-Colonel Theodore Roosevelt and Bennett C. Clark will find it difficult to confine the caucus to organization measures and restrain a plunge directly into the national problems on which the returning soldier is known to have definite views and a strong desire to make known.

For instance, Lieut. C. A. Palmieri, who heads the California delegation, asserts that he will precipitate a discussion of the prohibition question. He will declare that the nation had no right to banish liquor at a time when the man serving his country could have no voice in the decision. "It is not a question of the right or wrong of booze," he said to a Post-Dispatch reporter, "but a question of the justice or injustice of a measure that does not represent a decision of all the people."

To Oppose Land Reclamation.
Sergt. L. R. Collier of Hottelito, Idaho, speaking for his State, declares that he will demand that the legion support a measure for the reclamation of waste lands in Idaho for the benefit of the returning soldier.

Lieut. H. R. Snout of Utah, son of United States Senator Snout, says he will demand early action toward the same end in his State.

It is expected that in excess of 100 delegates will be in St. Louis. Representation is on the basis of each state being allowed delegates equal in number to twice the number of its representatives in Congress. The fact that every state probably will have its maximum representation is taken as further evidence of the impatience of the returned soldier to air some of the conclusions he reached during his contact with affairs as they now are administered by the national Government.

Private Leslie A. Miller of Wyoming announced upon his arrival that he would broach the question of universal military service. He has not a touch of an army, but he declares convinced all who served of the desirability of military training and that he will propose that the country does not adopt a system of preparedness against future wars.

Policy of Officers.
It is the plan of the temporary officers to forestall all this discussion by confining the action of the caucus to questions of eligibility for membership and organization, postponing the discussion of policies for the first annual convention which will be held in November.

Col. Roosevelt yesterday announced his belief that even the temporary officers should hold over until the November convention. He has suspicion among the enlisted men that the legion is not for them. Col. Roosevelt has repeatedly stated that this is not to be an organization of officers but of all who served, and that should include the enlisted men who will relinquish the chair at the opening of the caucus to some enlisted man.

Organization Discussed.
The question of eligibility, precipitated in a pre-caucus yesterday, also will be debated freely in the general assembly. The decision of yesterday's meeting was that membership should not be restricted to men of the service who have been discharged, but should include all who served, whether discharged or still in the service.

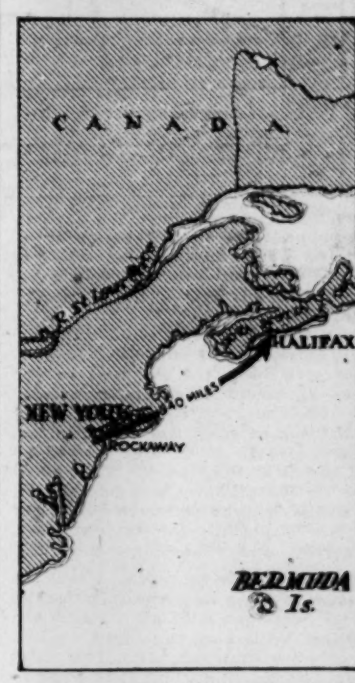

Those who favored the presentation of discharge papers as necessary for qualification were hitting at the regular army. Col. Clark, who has bitterly expressed his opposition to the regular army as now constituted, declared that the regulars must be admitted to the legion. A vote of 23 to 14 for the admission of the regulars is taken as evidence that the fight will be continued on the floor of the caucus.

The question of the admission of negroes to the legion also will be a matter of discussion. Some representatives of the Southern States

3 NAVY PLANES PASS CAPE COD ON FIRST LEG OF OCEAN FLIGHT

Aviators Report by Wireless Their Big Machines Are Working Satisfactorily.

BLOCK ISLAND, R. I., May 8.—The three American hydro-airplanes crossed the south end of Block Island a little after noon today. One had a considerable lead and the other two were near each other. The weather was perfect. A light west wind favored the fliers.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, May 8.—The first transatlantic flight was begun when three NC (Navy-Curtiss) hydro-airplanes left the Government's air station at Rockaway Beach at 10 a. m. today on the first leg of the journey—Rockaway to Halifax, a distance of 540 miles.

The NC-3, with Commander John S. Towers, chief of the expedition, in charge, was the first plane to take to the air.

The NC-1, with Lieutenant-Commander P. N. L. Bellinger, and the NC-4, with Lieutenant-Commander A. C. Read as the commanding officers, were close behind the NC-3. The planes were escorted to sea by a squadron of navy scout planes.

Total Distance 3925 Miles.
The total distance between Rockaway Beach and Plymouth is 3925 nautical miles.

The NC-3 cruised for a minute northward in Jupiter Bay, moving at half speed through the water and then turned for the open sea. The throttles were thrown wide open and with a roar of 1600 horsepower motor the plane took to the air.

One minute later the NC-1 followed herself from the water, followed within 30 seconds by the NC-4, and the world's first transatlantic flight was actually in progress.

As the three craft vanished into the light haze the sun broke through flooding the bay and illuminating the wings of the planes.

After rounding Rockaway Point the squadron turned east, heading for Montauk Point, which is the tip of Long Island, where the course bends northeast to Chatham, Mass., on the elbow of Cape Cod, thence continuing over a long stretch of coastal waters to Halifax.

When the planes were fully a mile away, the even-toned roar of their huge motors assured officers that they were working perfectly. The escorting scout planes turned back about three miles from Rockaway and the three transatlantic fliers sped away on their great adventure.

Flying at 500 Feet.
First reports from the three flyers came from the coast guard station at Long Beach, L. I., where three life guards observed the seaplanes flying in close formation at an altitude of about 500 feet.

The three Transatlantic fliers were reported passing between Fisher's Island, off New London, Conn., and the end of Long Island at about 11 o'clock.

About 1200 persons, including the officers and men of the Naval Air Station, watched the three great planes rise from the water and soar over Jamaica Bay. There was no cheering, the spectators seeming too profoundly impressed to give utterance to their feelings.

CHATHAM, Mass., May 8.—The three American hydro-airplanes passed the Chatham naval station on their flight to Halifax at 1:28 p. m. Taking their bearings from Chatham they appeared to be pointing northeastward on the Cape Sable course.

At this point the machines had covered more than 200 miles of their journey.

The planes were a considerable distance off shore and appeared to be about 2000 feet in the air, flying in a line after the other. An observation balloon had been sent up from the naval flying station as a guide for the planes, but because of their distance from shore no effort was made to signal to them.

OFFICIAL SUMMARY OF THE TREATY WITH GERMANY

FRANCE, BELGIUM AND POLAND TO GET PARTS OF GERMAN TERRITORY

Fortresses Along Rhine to Be Dismantled and Restriction on Airplanes—Devastated Areas Must Be Restored.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 8. The following is the official summary of the peace treaty, delivered to the German delegates at Versailles yesterday by the representatives of the allied and associated Powers, as made public here by the Committee on Public Information:

"Preamble. The preamble names as parties to the one part the United States, the British Empire, France, Italy and Japan, described as the five allied and associated Powers, and Belgium, Bolivia, Brazil, China, Cuba, Ecuador, Greece, Guatemala, Haiti, the Hedjaz, Honduras, Liberia, Nicaragua, Panama, Peru, Poland, Portugal, Rumania, Servia, Spain, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, who with the five above are described as the allied and associated Powers, and on the other part, Germany.

"It states that: Bearing in mind that on the request of the German Government an armistice was granted on Nov. 11, 1918, by the five allied and associated Powers in order that a treaty of peace might be concluded with Germany, and whereas the allied and associated Powers being equally desirous that the war in which they were successfully involved directly or indirectly and which originated in the declaration of war by Austria-Hungary on July 28, 1914, against Serbia, the declaration of war by Germany against Russia on August 1, 1914, and in the invasion of Belgium, should be replaced by a firm, just and durable peace, the plenipotentiaries having communicated their powers found in good and due form, have agreed as follows:

"From the coming into force of the present treaty the state of war will terminate. From the moment and subject to the provisions of this treaty official relations with Germany and with each of the German states will be resumed by the allied and associated Powers.

"Section 1. League of Nations. The covenant of the league of nations constitutes section 1 of the peace treaty, which places upon the league many specific duties in addition to its general duties. It may question Germany at any time for a violation of the neutralized zone east of the Rhine as a threat against the world's peace. It will appoint three of the five members of the Saar Commission, oversee the regime and carry out the plan. It will appoint the High Commissioner of Danzig, guarantee the independence of the free city and arrange for treaties between Danzig and Germany and Poland. It will work out the mandatory system to be applied to the former German colonies and act as a final court in part of the plebiscite in the Ruhr. It will settle disputes as to the Kiel Canal, and decide certain of the economic and financial problems. An international conference on labor is to be held in October under its direction and another on the international control of ports, waterways and railways is fore-shadowed.

"Membership.—The members of the league will be the plenipotentiaries of the covenant and other states invited to accede, who must lodge a declaration of accession without reservation within two months. A new state, dominion, or colony, may be admitted provided its admission is agreed to by two-thirds of the assembly. A state may withdraw upon giving two years' notice, if it has fulfilled all its international obligations.

"A permanent secretariat will be established at the seat of the league, which will be Geneva. "Assembly. The assembly will consist of representatives of the members of the league, and will meet at stated intervals. Voting will be by one vote for each member. Only if the league of nations are to be able to take upon their heavy lot, if the peace which has been achieved is not any more

MERCHANT SHIPPING DESTROYED IN WAR MUST BE REPLACED

CONSCRIPTION ABOLISHED IN GERMANY AND OTHER CHECKS PUT ON MILITARISM

Rights Outside Europe Renounced in Favor of the Allies Include Those Formerly Held in China.

These limits to be destroyed. The manufacture of aircraft and parts of aircraft is forbidden for six months. All military and naval aeronautical material under a most exhaustive definition must be surrendered within three months, except for the hundred seaplanes already specified.

Prisoners to Be Returned.—Prisoners of war, the repatriation of German prisoners and interned civilians is to be carried out without delay and at Germany's expense by a commission composed of representatives of the allies and Germany. Those under sentence for offenses against discipline are to be repatriated without regard to the completion of their sentence. Germany has surrendered persons guilty of offenses against the laws and customs of war, the allies have the right to retain selected German officers. The allies may deal at their own discretion with German nationals who do not desire to be repatriated, all repatriation to be conditional upon the immediate release of all subjects of the allies in Germany. Germany is to afford facilities to commissions of inquiry in collecting information in regard to missing prisoners of war and of imposing penalties on German officials who have concealed allied nationals. Germany is to restore all property belonging to allied prisoners. There is to be a reciprocal exchange of information as to dead prisoners and their graves.

Graves.—Both parties will respect and maintain the graves of soldiers and sailors buried on their territories, agree to recognize and assist any commission charged by any allied or associate Government with identifying, registering, maintaining or erecting suitable monuments over the graves, and to afford to each other all facilities for the repatriation of the remains of their soldiers.

Responsibilities.—The allied and associated powers publicly arraign William II of Hohenzollern, formerly German Emperor, not for an offense against criminal law, but for a supreme offense against international morality and the sanctity of treaties.

The ex-emperor's surrender is to be requested of Holland and a special tribunal set up composed of one judge from each of the five great Powers, with full guarantees of the right of defense. It is to be guided by the highest motives of international policy with a view of vindicating the solemn obligations of international undertakings and the validity of international law and the faith should be imposed.

Persons accused of having committed acts in violation of the laws and customs of war are to be tried and punished by military tribunals under military law. If the charges affect nationals of only one state they will be tried before a tribunal of that state; if they affect nationals of several states, they will be tried before joint tribunals of the states concerned. Germany shall hand over to the allied and associated Governments either jointly or severally all persons so accused and all documents and information necessary to insure full knowledge of the incriminating acts, the discovery of the offenders, and the appreciation of the responsibility.

The accused will be entitled to name his own counsel.

Compensation for All Damages to Civilians in War Must Be Paid

Section 7: Reparation and restitution.

The allied and associated Governments affirm, and Germany accepts, the responsibility of herself and her allies for causing all the loss and damage to which the allied and associated Governments and their nationals have been subjected as a consequence of the war imposed upon them by the aggression of Germany and other allies.

While the allied and associated Governments recognize that the resources of Germany are not adequate, after taking into account permanent eliminations of such resources which will result from other treaty claims, to make complete reparation for all such loss and damage, they require her to make compensation for all damages caused to civilians under seven main categories:

(a) Damage by personal injury to civilians caused by acts of war, directly or indirectly including bombardments from the air.

(b) Damage caused to civilians including exposure at sea, resulting from acts of cruelty ordered by the enemy and to civilians in the occupied territories.

(c) Damages caused by maltreatment of prisoners.

(d) Damages to the allied peoples represented by pensions, repatriation allowances, capitalized at the signature of this treaty.

(f) Damage to civilians by being forced to labor.

(g) Damages in the form of levies or fines imposed by the enemy.

Germany further binds herself to repay all sums borrowed by Belgium from her allies as a result of Germany's violation of the treaty of 1839 up to Nov. 11, 1918, and for this purpose will issue at once and hand over to the Reparation Commission 5 per cent gold bonds, due in 1926. The total obligations of Germany to pay as defined in the category of damages is to be determined and notified to her after a fair hearing and not later than May 1, 1921, by an international reparation commission.

At the same time a schedule of payments to discharge the obligation within 30 years shall be presented. These payments are subject to postponement in certain contingencies. Germany irrevocably recognizes the full authority of this commission, agrees to supply it with all the necessary information and to pass legislation to effectuate its findings. She further agrees to restore to the allies cash and certain assets which can be identified. As an immediate step towards restoration, Germany shall pay within two years one thousand million pounds sterling in the form of gold bonds, due in 1926.

The sum being included in and not additional to first thousand million bond issue referred to below, with the understanding that certain expenses, such as those of the armies of occupation and payments for food and raw materials may be deducted at the direction of the allies.

In periodically estimating Germany's capacity to pay, the reparation commission shall examine the German system of taxation, to the end that the sum for reparation which Germany is required to pay shall become a charge upon all her revenues, prior to the formation of a permanent commission of domestic loan, and secondly, so as to satisfy itself that in general taxation is fully as proportionate as she is able to pay to the powers represented on the commission.

The measures which the allied and associated Powers shall have the right to take, in case of voluntary default by Germany and which Germany agrees not to regard as acts of war, may include economic and financial prohibitions and reprisals and in general such other measures as the reparation commission may determine to be necessary in the circumstances.

Commission Make-Up.

The commission shall consist of representatives of each of the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy and Belgium, a representative of Serbia or Japan, taking the place of the Belgian representative when the latter is of either country are particularly affected with all other allied Powers entitled when their claims are under consideration to the right of representation without voting power. It shall permit Germany to give evidence regarding her capacity to pay and shall assure a just opportunity to be heard.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, headquarters at Paris, establish its own procedure and personnel, have general control of the whole reparation problem, and become the executive agency of the allies for receiving, holding, selling and distributing reparation payments.

Majority vote shall prevail except that unanimity is required on questions involving the sovereignty of any of the allies, the cancellation of all or part of Germany's obligations, the time and manner of selling, distributing and negotiating bonds issued by Germany, any postponement between 1921 and 1926 of annual payments beyond 1930 and any postponement after 1926 for a period of more than three years of the application of a different method of measuring damage than in a similar form or case and the interpretation of provisions.

Withdrawal from representation on the commission is permitted upon 12 months' notice. The commission may require Germany to give from time to time, by way of guarantee, issues of bonds or other obligations to cover such claims as are not otherwise satisfied. In this connection and on account of the total amount of claims, bond issues are presently being required of Germany in acknowledgment of its debt as follows:

"One thousand million pounds sterling, payable not later than May 1, 1921, without interest; two thousand million pounds sterling bearing 2 1/2 per cent interest between 1921 and 1926 and thereafter 5 per cent with a 1 per cent sinking fund payment beginning in 1926 and an undertaking to deliver bonds to an additional amount of two thousand million pounds sterling bearing interest at 5 per cent.

Interest on Germany's Debt.—Interest on the terms to be fixed by the commission, interest on Germany's debt will be 5 per cent unless otherwise determined by the commission in the future and payment of interest shall be made in gold or in kind. The commission may accept the commission in the form of properties, commodities, businesses, rights, concessions, etc. Certificates of beneficial interest, representing either bonds or goods delivered by Germany to the allied and associated Powers, shall be issued for the amount of the debt.

In order to effect payment by deliveries in kind, Germany is required, for a specified number of years, varying in the case of each, to deliver coal, coal tar products, dyestuffs and chemical drugs in specified amounts to the reparations commission. The commission may modify the condition of delivery as to not to interfere unduly with Germany's industrial requirements. The deliveries of coal are based largely upon the principle of making good the losses in the production of the allied countries resulting from the war.

Restoration of Devastated Areas.

"Devastated Areas." Germany undertakes to devote her economic resources directly to the physical restoration of the invaded areas. The reparation commission is authorized to require Germany to replace the destroyed articles by the delivery of animals, machinery, etc., existing in Germany, or to manufacture materials required for reconstruction purposes with due consideration for Germany's essential domestic requirements.

"Coal." Germany is to deliver annually for 10 years to France coal equivalent to the difference between annual pre-war output of Nord and as de Calais mines and annual production during above 10 years. The coal is to be delivered over 10 years for delivery of 7,000,000 tons of coal per year to France in addition to the above, of 8,000,000 tons to Belgium and of an amount, rising from 4,500,000 tons in 1919 to 1929 to 8,500,000 tons in 1923 to 1924 to Italy at prices to be fixed as prescribed in the treaty. Coke may be taken in place of coal in ratio of three tons of coke to one ton of coal. The coal is to be delivered over three years of benzol, coal tar and of ammonia. The commission has powers to postpone or annul the above deliveries should they interfere unduly with the industrial requirements of Germany.

Dyestuffs and Chemicals.

"Dyestuffs and Chemical Drugs." Germany accords option to the commission on dyestuffs and chemical drugs, in the ratio of up to 50 per cent of total stock in Germany at the time the treaty comes in force and similar options during each six months to end of 1924 up to 25 per cent of previous six months' output.

"Cables." Germany renounces all title to specified cables, value of such as were privately owned being credited to her against reparation indebtedness.

"Special Provisions." As reparation for the destruction of the library of Louvain, Germany is to hand over manuscripts, early printed books, prints, etc., to be deposited in the library of Louvain. In addition to the above Germany is to hand over to Belgium wings now at Berlin belonging to the altar piece of the Adoration of the Kings of the East, the Van Eyck, the center of which now is in the church of Saint Bavo of Ghent, and the wings now at Berlin and Munich, of the altar piece of the last supper by Dirk Bouts, the center of which belongs to the church of Saint Peter at Louvain.

Germany is to restore within six months the Koran of the Caliph Othman, formerly at Medina to the King of the Hedjaz, and the skull of the Sultan Mehmed, formerly in German East Africa, to his Britannic Majesty's Government.

"Territories." Powers to which German territory is ceded will assume a certain portion of the German pre-war debt, the amount to be fixed by the Reparations Commission on the basis of the ratio between the revenue of the ceded territory and Germany's total revenues for the three years preceding the war. In view, however, of the special circumstances under which Alsace-Lorraine was separated from France in 1871, when Germany refused to accept any part of the French public debt, France will not assume any part of Germany's pre-war debt there, nor will Poland share in certain German debts incurred for the oppression of Poland. If the value of the German public property in ceded territory exceeds the amount of debt assumed, the states to which property is ceded give credit on reparation for the excess, with the exception of Alsace-Lorraine. Mandatory powers will not assume any German debts or give any credit for German Government property.

Must Pay Cost of the Armies of Occupation From Armistice

"Germany is required to pay the total cost of the armies of occupation from the date of the armistice as long as they are maintained in German territory, this cost to be a first charge on her resources. The cost of reparation is the next charge, after making such provisions for payments for imports as the allies may deem necessary.

"Germany is to deliver to the allied and associated Powers all arms deposited in Germany by Turkey and Austria-Hungary in connection with the financial support extended by her to them during the war, and to transfer to the allies all claims against Austria-Hungary and Turkey in connection with agreements made during the war. Germany confirms the renunciation of the treaties of Bucharest and Brest-Litovsk.

"On the request of the Reparations Commission, Germany will appropriate any right, rights or interests of her nationals in public utilities in ceded territories or those administered by mandatories, and in Turkey, China, Russia, Austria-Hungary and Bulgaria, and transfer them to the Reparations Commission, which will credit her with their value.

"Germany guarantees to repay to Brazil the fund arising from the sale of Sao Paulo coffee which she refused to allow Brazil to withdraw from Germany.

"Bilateral treaties. Each allied and associate state may renew any treaty with Germany in so far as consistent with the peace treaty by giving notice within six months. Treaties entered into by Germany since Aug. 1, 1914, with other enemy states and before or since that date with Rumania, Russia and governments representing Russia are abrogated and any concession granted under pressure by Russia to German subjects annulled. The allied and associated states are to enjoy most favored nation treatment under treaties entered into by Germany and other enemy states before Aug. 1, 1914, and under treaties entered into by Germany and neutral states during the war.

Payment of Pre-War Debts.

"Pre-war debts. A system of clearing houses is to be created within the months of the armistice, many and one in each allied and associated state which adopts the plan for the payment of pre-war debts including those arising from contracts and other obligations, for the adjustment of the proceeds of the liquidation of enemy property and the settlement of other obligations. Each participating state assigns to the clearing house the payment of all debts owing by its nationals to nationals of the enemy states except in cases of pre-war insolvency of the debtor. The proceeds of the sale of private enemy property in each participating state may be used to pay the debts owed to the nationals of that state, direct payment from debtor to creditor and all communications relating thereto being prohibited. Disputes may be settled by arbitration by the courts of the debtor country or by the mixed arbitral tribunals. Any ally or associate Power may, however, decline to participate in this system by giving Germany six months' notice.

Opium Convention to Go Into Force; Clauses on Missionaries and Aviators

"Section 9.

"Opium." The contracting Powers agree, whether or not they have signed and ratified the opium convention of Jan. 23, 1912, or signed the special protocol opened at The Hague, in accordance with resolutions adopted by the third opium conference in 1914, to bring the said convention into force by enacting within 12 months of the peace the necessary legislation.

"Religious Missions." The allied and associated Powers agree that the properties of religious missions in territories belonging or ceded to them shall continue in force under the control of the Powers, Germany renouncing all claims in their behalf.

SUMMARY OF THE DRASTIC TREATY TERMS GIVEN TO GERMANY

third, vote, must be submitted to the law-making authority in every state participating. Each Government may either enact the terms into law; approve the principle, but modify them to local needs; leave the actual legislation in case of a federal state to local legislatures; or reject the convention altogether without further obligation.

"The International labor office is established at the seat of the league of nations as part of its organization. It is to collect and distribute information on labor throughout the world and prepare agenda for the conference. It will publish a periodical in French and English, and possibly other languages. Each state agrees to make it for presentation to the conference an annual report of measures to secure accepted conventions. The governing body is its executive. It consists of 24 members, 21 representing the governments, 6 the employers and 6 the employees, to serve for three years. On complaint that any government has failed to carry out a convention to which it is a party, the governing body may make inquiries directly to that government and in case the reply is unsatisfactory, may publish the complaint with comment. A complaint by one government against another may be referred by the governing body to a commission of inquiry nominated by the secretary-general of the league. If the commission report fails to bring satisfactory action, the matter may be taken to a permanent court of international justice for final decision. The chief reliance for securing enforcement of the law will be publicity with a possibility of economic action in the background.

"The first meeting of the conference will take place in October, 1919, at Washington, to discuss the 8-hour day or 48-hour week; prevention of unemployment; extension and application of the international conventions adopted at Bern in 1906 prohibiting night work for women and the use of white phosphorous in the manufacture of matches; and employment of women and children at night or in unhealthy work, of women before and after childbirth, including maternity benefit, and of children as regards minimum age.

"Labor clauses: Nine principles of labor conditions were recognized on the ground that the well-being, physical and moral, of the industrial wage-earner is of supreme international importance. With exceptions necessitated by differences of climate, habits and economic development, they include: The guiding principle that labor should not be regarded merely as a commodity or article of commerce; right of association of employers and employees; a wage adequate to maintain a reasonable standard of life; the 8-hour day or 48-hour week; a weekly rest of at least 24 hours; which should include Sunday wherever practicable; abolition of child labor and assurance of the continuation of the education and proper physical development of children; equal pay for equal work as between men and women; equitable treatment of all workers lawfully resident therein, including foreigners; and a system of inspection in which women should take part.

"15 Years' Occupation: 'Guarantee: Western Europe, as a guarantee for the execution of the treaty—German territory to the west of the Rhine, together with the bridgeheads, will be occupied by allied and associated troops for 15 years. If the conditions are faithfully carried out by Germany, certain districts, including the bridgehead of Cologne, will be evacuated at the expiration of five years; certain other districts, including the bridgehead of Coblenz, and the territory to the east of the Rhine, will be evacuated after 10 years, and the remainder, including the bridgehead of Mainz, will be evacuated after 15 years. In the case of the bridgehead of Cologne, a special commission finds that Germany has failed to observe the whole or part of her obligations, either during the occupation or after the 15 years have expired, the whole or part of the areas specified will be reoccupied immediately. If before the expiration of the 15 years Germany complies with all the treaty undertakings, the occupying forces will be withdrawn immediately.

"Eastern Europe: All German troops at present in territories to the east of the new frontier shall return as soon as the allied and associated Government deem wise. They are to abstain from all requisitions and are in no way to interfere with measures for national defense taken by the Government concerned.

"All questions regarding occupation not provided for by the treaty will be regulated by a subsequent convention or conventions which will have similar force and effect.

"Germany agrees to recognize the full validity of the treaties of peace and additional conventions to be concluded by the allied and associated powers with the powers allied with Germany; to agree to the decisions to be taken as to the territories of Austria-Hungary, Bulgaria and Turkey; and to recognize the new states in the frontier to be fixed for them.

"Germany agrees not to put forward any pecuniary claims against any allied or associated power signing the present treaty based on events previous to the coming into force of the treaty.

"Germany accepts all decrees as to German ships and goods made by any allied or associated prize court. The allies reserve the right to examine all decisions of German prize courts. The present treaty, of which the French and British texts are both authentic, shall be ratified and the ratifications made in Paris as soon as possible. The treaty is to become effective in all respects for each power on the day of deposit of its ratification."

Diamond Squeegie Tread Tires

Even Taxis get over 5000 miles on "Diamonds"

You know what the taxi driver hears—"only eight minutes to the train! Drive now if you never did before."

Taxis get punishment that your car never gets. Tires dare not fail. Further, they must give maximum mileage per dollar of cost. Else "overhead" will eat up profits.

The Quaker City Cab Co., Philadelphia, solves its tire problem with Diamonds—Diamonds average over 5000 miles in winter work with chains for them.

The Portland Taxicab Co., Portland, Ore., using Diamonds on its fleet, gets an average of over 6,000 miles. The Terminal Taxi Co., Washington, D. C., has been getting 6000 miles on its Diamonds. These specific instances are typical of many others under hard service.

Buying Tires is serious business for these companies—Diamonds save them money. Why don't you at least investigate?

SENATOR SAM B. COOK FLOORS BITTNER OF ST. LOUIS IN HOUSE

His Representative on Jay as Result of Alleged Insult to Miller County Member.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, May 8.—Senator Sam B. Cook of Jefferson City last night floored Representative Frank O. Bittner of St. Louis with two swift blows on the jaw in an encounter on the floor of the House. A deputy sergeant at arms and Representative Lay of Crawford County separated them before Bittner could use a heavy metal waste paper basket, which he clutched as he fell.

The differences began in the afternoon, when Senator Cook went to the seat of Representative Agee of Miller County and protested against Agee's vote against a bill providing for the purchase of two blocks of ground lying between the Capitol and the Governor's mansion. Bittner, who sat near Agee, declared Cook had insulted Agee and that he should be put off the floor. Cook departed after inviting Bittner outside the room. Bittner did not go.

Last night Cook again went to the House chamber and called Bittner from his seat to the rear of the room. As soon as Bittner was in striking distance Cook said something which was not understood by others near by and struck Bittner twice. Bittner fell, but recovered himself and started for Cook with the waste paper basket. After the men had been kept separated, Cook was led from the room by the sergeant at arms.

Ceremony on Fourth Anniversary of Sinking of the Ship.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 8.—On the day the peace treaty was handed to the German delegates, the fourth anniversary of the sinking of the steamship Lusitania by a German torpedo with the loss of more than 1000 lives was observed with a memorial service at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, attended by 800 persons, including survivors and relatives of the victims of the tragedy.

The service was arranged by several New York patriotic societies "with no spirit of hatred, but with a desire to perpetuate the memory of the occasion which marked the moral entry of America on the side of the allies."

Celebration for Archbishop.

NEW YORK, May 8.—Archbishop Patrick J. Hayes today was formally invested with the insignia of his new office as head of the New York archdiocese. The ceremony at St. Patrick's Cathedral was attended by six other Archbishops, about 50 Bishops, 100 Monsignors, 500 chaplains and at least 1000 priests. The investiture took place during a solemn mass celebrated by Archbishop Giovanni Bonzano of Washington, D. C., the apostolic delegate.

Auxiliary Meeting Postponed.
A meeting of the Relatives' Auxiliary of the St. Louis National Guard, which was to have been held tonight at Central High School, has been postponed until further notice, owing to use of the hall for other purposes.

'SAMMY' GOLDBERG GETS THE D. S. C. HE WAS SO KEEN FOR

St. Louis Youngster, Who Took 18 German Prisoners Single Handed, Honored in a Eulogistic Citation.

STICKS WITH HIS COLONEL IN FRANCE

Biddle Street Boy Refused to Come Home With the 138th as Long as His Superior Remained.

"Sammy" Goldberg, the 20-year-old orderly of Col. H. S. Howland, formerly commander of the 138th (St. Louis) Infantry, who lived with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Goldberg, at 1514 Biddle street, has received the Distinguished Service Cross for bravery under fire. Last Sunday he cabled to his parents from Chaumont, France, "Decorate me, Sam." The elder Goldberg conducts a bakery.

Last March Col. Howland sent to Sam's parents a copy of the order of recommendation, so it was not altogether a surprise. "Sammy" had also written home of his hope for the D. S. C. The text of Col. Howland's order follows:

"Private Sam Goldberg, Headquarters Company, 138th Infantry, Sept. 26, 1918, Cheppy, France. Harry Goldberg (father), 1514 Biddle street, St. Louis.

"For extraordinary heroism in action near Cheppy, France, Sept. 26, 1918. When, under a heavy enemy barrage and in the face of intense machine gun fire from both flanks and front at 150 meters (about 500 feet), the regimental headquarters and attached elements made a stand in front of the enemy line at Cheppy, Private Goldberg, a mere boy, acting as orderly for the regimental commander, displayed extraordinary heroism and initiative, being always first to volunteer for a difficult task.

Discarded Danger.

"In utter disregard of his own safety, he dressed an officer's wounds, exposed to intense machine-gun fire. When, after three hours, the assault was made, with the aid of tanks, upon the enemy position, Private Goldberg, having taken possession of a wounded officer's pistol, armed only with this weapon, entered an enemy dugout alone and, at the point of the pistol, compelled the Germans to surrender, marching them back and turning them over to an officer. Later, when the action was over, guarding four German prisoners whom he impressed into service as litter bearers, he conducted a wounded officer, through a shell-swept area, back to a dressing station several kilometers to the rear. Private Goldberg displayed constant gallantry and heroism, and exhibited an inspiring example to his comrades."

His Exploits Told.

The story of "Sammy's" exploits has been previously told in the Post-Dispatch, in accounts of the Argonne battle. When Col. Howland was detached from the regiment to go to

ST. LOUIS YOUTH WHO GETS THE D. S. C.

SAMMY GOLDBERG...

General Headquarters, he took his orderly, Goldberg, with him, and they are still there. Col. Howland is working under the Provost Marshal-General of the A. E. F.

On April 17 "Sammy" wrote from Chaumont, Gen. Pershing's headquarters, and told of his notification of recommendation. "I just got back from Paris," he wrote, "and I had a wonderful time. I attended the first and second seder (Jewish religious services), and everything was there but home, so I will have to be thankful that I am alive and very happy. After all the hardships I had to go through. Here is the best part, that of all passovers I will never forget: As I came back the Colonel came up to me and said, 'SAM' in such a way I thought he was going to bowl me out for something. Sam, I congratulate you for you are to receive the D. S. C. this month.' I will cable you when I get it, and will write you all about it, and who done the decorating. Your son, Sam, D. S. C."

Letter From the Colonel.

Col. Howland wrote Mr. and Mrs. Goldberg on Feb. 16, from Nice, France, that he was sorry neither he nor "Sammy" could return with their regiment. "Your son has unselfishly decided to forego the pleasures of the return in order to remain on duty with me, and I appreciate this more than I can tell you," Col. Howland wrote.

"I am not as yet fit for duty," the Colonel wrote, "and when the doctors finally let me go I shall go on duty with the army of occupation. I am glad to tell you that your son proved to be a gallant little soldier."

"Sammy" enlisted in L Company, First Regiment, when it was recruited to war strength, and went with it from Camp Doniphan as part of the 138th Infantry. Although he was in severe fighting, he was never wounded.

Pan-American Congress June 2-5. WASHINGTON, May 8.—The governing board of the pan-American Union at a meeting yesterday selected June 2 to 5 as the dates for the pan-American Commercial Congress to be held in Washington. President Wilson has been invited to make an address at the opening session.

City and School

Holiday Tomorrow. in Honor of 138th

TOMORROW will be a full holiday for city employees and school children, in honor of the return of the 138th Infantry. The closing of the schools, which was announced at Board of Education headquarters, does not affect the night schools, which will hold their regular sessions.

Acting Mayor Aloe's proclamation, ordering a municipal holiday and asking business houses to join in it as far as possible, is:

To the People of St. Louis: On Friday, May 9, St. Louis will be host to the boys of the 138th Infantry, formerly our First and Fifth Regiments of the National Guard.

These boys are dear to all of us, and we have, from day to day, followed their movements on the field of battle, rejoicing with them in victory and sharing their grief over fallen comrades.

Out of respect, both to those of our heroes who return and those who made the supreme sacrifice, I hereby direct the closing of all city offices on Friday, May 9, throughout the entire day, and respectfully request all business houses to release as many of their employees as possible to view the parade of the troops, especially when such employees are relatives of men in the returning unit and where such business houses are not located on the line of march.

LOUIS P. ALOE, Acting Mayor.

HISTORICAL ASSOCIATION OF MISSISSIPPI VALLEY MEETS

Sessions at Jefferson Memorial in Forest Park Will Continue for Three Days.

The Mississippi Valley Historical Association began its twelfth annual meeting this morning in Jefferson Memorial in Forest Park. The convention will continue three days, concluding with a business session Saturday afternoon at Washington University. It is being held in St. Louis upon joint invitation of the Missouri Historical Society and Washington University. Delegates are present from all parts of the Mississippi Valley.

The opening session consisted of five addresses on historical subjects, as follows: "The Consistency of American Foreign Policy," by Beverley W. Bond, Purdue University; "A Frontier Officer's Old Military Order Book," Louis Pelzer, University of Iowa; "Following the Westward Star," Chancellor Jenks, Chicago; "Some New Light on Don Diego de Penasco. Proof That He Did Not Make an Expedition From Santa Fe to Gran Quivira and the Missouri River," Charles W. Hackett, University of Texas; "Henry Hastings Sibley and the Minnesota Frontier," Wilson P. Shortridge, University of Louisville.

At 12:30 the members of the association were tendered a luncheon at the Jefferson Memorial by the Missouri Historical Society. The luncheon speaker was Charles W. Alvord, who discussed the history and present program and condition of the association.

The program for this afternoon consists entirely of addresses on river transportation and commerce in the Mississippi Valley. The speakers are: Lester B. Shippee, University of Minnesota; Wallace W. Cawson, De Pauw University; R. B. Way, Beloit College, and Melvin P. White, Tulane University.

At this evening's meeting the president of the association, Harlow Lindley of Earlham College, will deliver an address on "Western Travel, 1600-1820." Mrs. Edward Schaaf of St. Marys, Mo., will deliver an illustrated address on "Old French Missouri."

LAWYER SUES H. C. KOENIG FOR $14,000, AS BALANCE OF FEE

Henry W. Blodgett Says He Was to Get $15,000 in Espionage Case and Was Paid $1000.

A suit seeking to obtain $14,000 in fees for successfully defending Henry C. Koenig, 3836 Kosciusko street, on a charge under the espionage act, was filed in Circuit Court today by Henry W. Blodgett, an attorney.

The petition states that Koenig agreed to pay Blodgett $15,000 for his services, but has paid only $1000. Koenig was arrested on a charge of having sold to Red Cross solicitors "The hands of the Y. M. C. A. and Red Cross are grafters and thieves and I wouldn't trust them with a cent." He was tried and acquitted in United States District Court last November.

Fauntleroy, Cullen and Hay filed the suit for Blodgett.

HALF OF FRANCE'S YOUTH GONE

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, May 8.—Capt. Andrew Tardieu, head of the general commission for Franco-American war matters, recently announced that he had made an investigation into the number of French soldiers killed between the age of 20 and 31. He found that 58 per cent has lost their lives.

That is, over half of France's youth had disappeared.

Military modes possessing slashing soldiery swank still coming marching along in serried ranks.

You can no more escape them than pricking up your ears at a bugle's blare, or than a wary eye can contemplate a pretty ankle on a windy day with stony impassivity.

The Stein-Bloch Tailors have turned out for us some truly stunning Semi-Military Sivic Suits and Top Coats for Spring—easy, breezy, swishy, flary, drapy garments, which portray, but do not parade, the profession of arms afield, afloat, a-mount and aloft.

Strictly Civilian Types, of course, in decorous patterns and dignified Dark Oxfords, and Flannels, embodying distinction without ostentation.

 BERNE, Tuesday, May 6.—It is

JUICE OF LEMONS
FOR TAN, FRECKLES

Girls! Make harmless bleaching lotion at home for few cents.

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white, shake well, and you have a quart of the best freckle and tan lotion, and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost. Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles and blemishes disappear and how clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless.—ADV announced that the citizens of Switzerland, by 300,000 votes to 163,000, have approved a measure imposing a war tax on incomes, the tax to be levied until one-half of the country's debt due to the war is paid off. The tax is to be applied to incomes exceeding 4000 francs ($800), with a progressive increase in taxation on the larger incomes.

Mexican Railroads Returned.
 MEXICO CITY, May 8.—The Mexican City state railways, which for the past four years have been under the administration of the Federal Government, have been turned back to their private owners. The Canadian interests which control the system have been negotiating with the Government for many months.

CHAIRMAN OF 25TH
WARD LOAN WORKERS

Miss Grace Adams.

"COME ON ST. LOUIS WOMEN" DAY FRIDAY

Extra Effort to Be Made to Put City Over the Top in Victory Loan.

THE St. Louis Women's Victory Loan Committee has issued an earnest appeal to St. Louis women to come forward and help put St. Louis "over the top" and finish the loan quota. They have designated tomorrow as "Come On, St. Louis Women" day, and everyone who has not already subscribed is asked to do so tomorrow as part of the celebration to welcome home the 158th. It will be a real way of showing thanksgiving and joy over the return of the boys who did their share and finished their job.

St. Louis women have done remarkable work in all the war drives and activities, but their work is not over until the last dollar of the Victory Loan is subscribed and it is up to the women to do it as much as the men, so it is their object to make tomorrow the banner day of women's patriotic service and roll up such a big number of loan subscriptions that St. Louis will once more stand before the whole country as the leader in the Liberty Loan campaign.

The St. Louis women who have led and directed the work deserve much credit. Mrs. Theodore Benoit, Eighth Federal Reserve District chairman, and Mrs. W. T. Donovan, Missouri chairman, have gone from town to town making inspiring speeches and thereby selling thousands of dollars worth of bonds. Twenty-eight ward chairmen, and Mrs. R. L. Sanford, St. Louis County chairman, have been tireless in their efforts during this campaign, and the district ward and precinct chairmen, numbering many of the most prominent women of the city, also deserve marked commendation. The wards having sold the largest subscriptions so far among the women are the Twenty-eighth Ward, with Mrs. Fred S. Freund as chairman, and the Twenty-fifth, of which Miss Grace Adams is chairman.

Social Items

The Sunday evening performance of the Scott Grand Opera Company at the Odeon will entice many from their usual country haunts for the lure of opera with Antonio Scotti in his most famous roles and the most ardent golfer to lay down his clubs earlier and desert the verdant of the many beautiful country clubs for the one at the Odeon. He will sing both Sunday and Monday evenings and both performances will bring out representative audiences. Boxes have been subscribed by Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Donovan, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Davis Jr., Mrs. J. M. Morton, Mr. Alexander Primm, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Annett, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Goldman, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Herlihy, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Burns, Mrs. Charles A. Stitt, Mr. and Mrs. Melville Wilkinson, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Stinde, Mrs. Charles McClure Clark, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Faust, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brueggemann, Parquet parties of 4 to 12 have been arranged by Mr. Louis Werner, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lawrence Mauran, Mrs. Harry Elliot Jr., Mrs. Jonathan Rice and Mrs. J. W. Drost.

Mr. and Mrs. Ewing Hill of the Kingsbury Apartments have purchased a handsome summer home at Kings Beach, N. H., and expect to depart the first part of June to take possession of it.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Keyser, who were guests at the Washington Hotel after their return to St. Louis, are now domiciled at the Windsor Hotel. Mr. Keyser is a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Keyser of 2229 Sayre Court, with whom he made his home before his marriage.

Among the pre-nuptial entertainments for Miss Elsa Kraus, who will become a bride Victor Anneke on Saturday, is a dinner to be given this evening by Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Faust of 1 Portland place. Miss Kraus has been the honoree of a number of affairs prior to her marriage.

Mrs. Charles H. Huttig of 37 Washington terrace has as her guest Mrs. Ben Givens of California, who formerly resided in St. Louis. A number of affairs will be given for Mrs. Givens, among which was a luncheon today at which Mrs. George Cross was the hostess. The luncheon was held at the Lenox place was hostess.

The St. Louis Woman's Club entertained with a card party this afternoon following a table d'hôte luncheon. Among the players were Misses Dan Nugent, William Duncan, Alexander De Menil, Charles Scudler, Richard McCulloch, J. G. Drew, John E. Thomson, Thomas Crews, Theodore Shelton, H. S. Butler, Richard Shelton, George D. Reynolds, Robert Atkinson and William G. Yantis. All members of the club are urged to attend the last two Grand Cross days. The tennis courts are now in readiness for the season's playing.

Miss Edith Steinmeyer of 3962

Flora boulevard has set Saturday, May 17, for her marriage to W. W. Payne of Norfolk, Va. The ceremony will take place at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Steinmeyer, at 7:30 o'clock, with the Rev. W. Wilk of the Church of the Messiah officiating. A reception will follow the ceremony.

At a meeting Tuesday the following hostesses for the Missouri Officers' Association were appointed by Mrs. W. A. McCandless, chairman of the committee: Misses A. L. Abbott, Robert Wallace, James Nugent, Toni Meaton, Robert Burkham, Humphrey Gifford, Knox Tausig, Walter Fischel, W. R. Campion, Fred Green, C. H. Bacon, Frank Jones, W. P. Durkan, Alex. M. Lewis and W. H. Ferguson. Mrs. Arthur H. Proetz, chairman of the Program Committee, announced that plans were being made for a large garden party at the end of the month as a courtesy to the returned Missouri officers.

and Mrs. Steinmeyer are also investment bankers and stock and bond dealers.

"—this, my last will and testament."

It is the most important document you will ever sign—your last will and testament.

On whom will you place the burden of making your will effective? Any INDIVIDUAL you name as executor may die, he may lose the state, he may default, he may lose his mind—any one of a score of unfortunate circumstances may unfit him for the task you have imposed.

None of these things will happen to the St. Louis Union Trust Co. Is that not sufficient reason for naming us as your executor?

The fees for handling estates are moderate—and fixed by law. They are the same in amount whether the work is done by an inexperienced or too busy business man, or by a well-equipped, experienced Trust Company. Why not get the best when the price is the same?

MEN WHO ROB SALOON DESCRIBED SIX WAYS

Bartender and Five Customers Differ as to Details—Other Hold-Ups.

Highwaymen operating in automobiles specialized in holding up drug stores and saloons again last night. Two drug stores and one saloon were robbed at about 9 o'clock. A discharged soldier from Camp Funston, who had just arrived in the city, and a pedestrian were also held up on the streets.

Burglars during the night broke into Philip Baers' dry goods store at 2612 North Fourteenth street and stole goods which Baers said he valued at $3500, including 200 silk waists, four dozen silk dresses and other articles of apparel for women.

Policemen were pointing today to the appearance of robbers from persons held up. Six men were held up in the saloon and no two gave the same description of the robbers. From three descriptions policemen are seeking two men variously said to be attired in brown, gray, blue and "dark-colored" suits; reported as being 25, 28, 30 and 35 years old; and wearing an assortment of hats from black derbies to light-colored fedoras.

Edward Gray, bartender in the saloon, was waiting on five customers when the robbers entered, with drawn revolvers. The men ordered everyone in the place to put their hands "on the bar." They were told to keep their hands in that position, and the robbers took $50 from the cash register and escaped in an automobile.

Drug Store Held Up.
Two armed men entered the drug store of Edward M. Jaekel, 1937 Park avenue, and ordered Jaekel, his wife, Ida, and Gus P. Lestick, 2031 Park avenue, to put their hands on the counter. Mrs. Ruth Cosma, 1829 Rutgers street, who was in a telephone booth, was told to keep quiet and remain in the booth. The robbers took $40 from the cash drawer and escaped. Ida Jaekel, daughter of the proprietor, was on the sidewalk outside the store. She said the men jumped into an automobile.

Shortly after 9 o'clock two men with revolvers entered the drug store of Harry Konetzky, 2300 Salisbury street, and made the clerks, Arthur Keats, 2105 South Spring avenue, and Oliver Akre, 2155A Palm street, hold up their hands while they emptied the cash register. They obtained about $45 and escaped in an automobile.

James J. Wells, 1308 Whittier street, a returned member of the 110th Ammunition Train, was robbed of his discharge papers and $55 when he stepped into a hallway at 4226 Flinnery avenue to get out of the rain early today and fell asleep. When he awoke his pockets were turned inside out.

Theodore Alt, 2601 North Ninth street, was held up by two armed men near Ninth and O'Fallon streets at 7 p. m. and robbed of a watch and $5.50.

Four Automobiles Stolen.
Burglars in the butcher shop and grocery of Star Anad, 1423 Chouteau avenue, last night rolled a 2x2-foot safe from the grocery into a large icebox in the rear of the butcher shop, where apparently they worked on it at their leisure. With a sledge hammer, railroad spikes and chisels they cut off the hinges and lifted out the door, breaking open a cash drawer and taking $125 cash, $250 in Liberty Bonds and $50 in War Savings Stamps. With the icebox door closed, the noise made in opening the safe failed to attract attention.

William H. Ebrecht, 4434 Junata avenue, an automobile insurance writer, left his automobile on Third street near Chestnut while he visited the courthouse yesterday afternoon. In his absence the machine was stolen. Other machines reported stolen during the night belonged to John Horst, 5233 Waterman avenue; S. T. Jenkins, 4215A Harford street; Federal Truck Co., 3615 Forest Park boulevard, and Gus Hintz, 4225 Vista avenue.

A 30-gallon copper starch boiler, several copper baskets and copper basket lofters, all valued at about $1000, were stolen during the night by burglars from the building formerly occupied by the Monarch Laundry, 2719 Franklin avenue, which was partly destroyed by fire a month ago. Pending adjustment of the insurance the doors and windows of the building have been barricaded. The burglars tore the barricade from a back door.

Burglars who broke into the Friede Welding Co. shop at 2129 Pine street during the night forced open a safe from which they obtained nothing, but they carried away $300 worth of tools, including acetylene drills, equipped with tanks of acetylene gas. These tools are used by some burglars to open safes.

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Nitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless prescriptions and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing wasted and wasted energy, it is evident that there are evidences of men and women who feel their weakness and want to be strong. Thinness and weakness are usually due to a lack of phosphorus in the blood. The body needs more phosphorus to build up the muscles and to give the nerves the strength to control the muscles. Nitro-Phosphate is a powerful stimulant and builds up the blood, giving the body the strength to build up the muscles and to give the nerves the strength to control the muscles. Nitro-Phosphate is a powerful stimulant and builds up the blood, giving the body the strength to build up the muscles and to give the nerves the strength to control the muscles.

Physicians claim that there is nothing that will supply this deficiency as well as the organic phosphate known as Nitro-Phosphate. It is sold by J. & J. Dolph, 1401 Olive St., St. Louis. It is a powerful stimulant and builds up the blood, giving the body the strength to build up the muscles and to give the nerves the strength to control the muscles. Nitro-Phosphate is a powerful stimulant and builds up the blood, giving the body the strength to build up the muscles and to give the nerves the strength to control the muscles.

USE COCOANUT OIL FOR WASHING HAIR

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Multisud coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Multisud coconut oil shampoo at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.—ADV.

FOR ITCHING TORTURE

Use Antiseptic Liquid Zemo

There is one remedy that seldom fails to stop itching torture and relieve skin irritation and that makes the skin soft, clear and healthy.

Any druggist can supply you with Zemo, which generally overcomes skin diseases. Eczema, itch, pimples, rashes, blackheads, in most cases give way to Zemo. Frequently, minor blemishes disappear overnight. Itching usually stops instantly. Zemo is a safe, antiseptic liquid, clean, easy to use and dependable. It costs only 25c; an extra large bottle, $1.00. It will not stain, is not greasy or sticky and is positively safe for tender, sensitive skins.

CITY MUST RAISE $15,000,000 IN 3 DAY LOAN DRIVE

Total Subscriptions as Announced Today Is $36,360,000, or 70.8 Per Cent of $51,342,650 Quota.

BIG TASK TO GET $5,000,000 A DAY

Reception to 138th Troops Interrupts Solicitation Tomorrow and Half Holiday Saturday.

St. Louis subscriptions to the Victory (Fifth Liberty) Loan, it was announced today, reached $36,360,000, or 70.8 per cent of the city's quota, which is $51,342,650. Including today, there are three days for the city to make up its balance of nearly $15,000,000. This means $5,000,000 a day. The advance in the figures announced today over those of yesterday is $4,457,350, so that the loan workers do not think $5,000,000 a day an impossible figure. Tomorrow's work will be interrupted unavoidably by the welcome to the returning 138th Regiment, and Saturday is only a half-day with many business men. Hence, every effort was made to get the largest possible amount of subscriptions today.

Subscriptions in St. Louis County, up to last midnight, were $1,589,400, or 127.7 per cent of the county's quota. The Curlew Clothing Co., it was announced today, has increased its subscription from $50,000 to $75,000. Homer P. Knapp, an official of Butler Bros., added $10,000 to his original purchase, making his total $20,000; the R. E. Funsten Fruit and Nut Co. increased from $25,000 to $50,000, and the A. J. Child & Sons Co. added $2000 to its $3000 subscription.

Eighth District Still Leads. The Eighth, or St. Louis Federal Reserve District is still leading the other districts of the country in percentage standing, having subscribed $149,376,700, or 73 per cent of its quota of $195,000,000, up to midnight Tuesday. The standing of different sections of the district, which consists of the entire State of Arkansas and parts of other states, up to that time, is reported as follows:

Section	Subscription, Per Cent
St. Louis County	$1,589,400 127.7
Kentucky	24,872,550 100.0
Indiana	13,374,150 95.1
Tennessee	12,652,950 87.5
Mississippi	8,447,150 79.1
Arkansas	14,410,500 70.1
Missouri	22,911,350 65.7
Illinois	19,276,200 62.5
City of St. Louis	$1,902,650 62.1
Total	$149,376,700 73.0

Recent reports from the country at large show that the Minneapolis district is crowding this district for the lead, having been within 3 per cent of the St. Louis district at the last report.

R. D. LEWIS PERSONALTY

VALUED AT $277,175

Vice President of Liggett & Myers

and War Savings Stamps.

An inventory of the estate of Robert D. Lewis, vice president of the Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co., who died several weeks ago, shows personal property appraised at $277,175.40. Two pieces of real estate, including his residence, 62 Westmoreland place, and 175 acres near Pilot Knob, Mo. The personal estate is divided as follows: Stocks, $194,633.50; cash, $33,076.29; bonds, $31,563.80; all of which are Liberty Bonds, except $854 in War Savings Stamps; insurance, $14,500; goods and chattels, $321,115. Lewis held $90,000 of common stock of the Liggett & Myers Co., an abundance of the preferred stock, and $48,000 of the preferred stock. He also had stock in the St. Louis Union Trust Co. valued at $25,000.

TRUCK FALLS SIX FLOORS

A hand truck loaded with fish

slid through the gate of an elevator shaft on the sixth floor of the Booth Cold Storage Co.'s plant, Main and Ashley streets, at 4 p. m. yesterday, and falling to the basement, wrecked the elevator cage there and probably fatally injured the elevator operator, John Bacynski, 50 years old, of 1431 Cass avenue. He was taken to the city hospital, unconscious, with a fractured skull and internal injuries.

Police investigating the accident were told that William Grefe, 2817 South Eighteenth street, an employee, was wheeling the truck towards the elevator when he lost control of it and its weight carried it through the protecting gate into the shaft.

Flowers Wanted to Strew in Path of the 138th Tomorrow

LOTS of flowers, to be strewn before the marching 138th Infantry in tomorrow's parade through the Court of Honor, are asked for by the Junior League, which will bestow this floral welcome in the same manner as in the parade of the 124th Field Artillery, last week. Trucks for collecting gifts of flowers, will be at Grand avenue and Shenandoah avenue, Grand avenue and Lindell boulevard, and Grand avenue and Hebert street, at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. The flowers most desired are those grown in yards, though gifts of houseplants are also acceptable. It is planned to drop flowers on the parade, in the Twelfth street Court of Honor, from the naval seaplane, piloted by Ensign Applegate.

Officials said today there was no indication how long the embargo would last nor what its cause was, but said they thought it was due to labor troubles in New York.

SIX WOMEN AND BABY ARE BURNED IN GAS EXPLOSION

One Struck Match in Vacant Building When Neighbors Sought Leak.

Six women and a baby were burned at 7:30 p. m. yesterday when neighbors seeking the source of a gas leak in the vicinity visited a vacant building at 2610 North Tenth street, from whence the gas appeared to flow, and lighted a match. An explosion that followed partially wrecked the building and injured the women who were inside the building.

Those burned were Mrs. Sadie Bresser, 4, of 2618 North Tenth street; Mrs. Rose Bresser, 24, of 2624 North Tenth street; Clara Curley, 28, of 1508 Branch street, and Alberta Courtney, 24, of 2624 North Tenth street. Employees of the Laclede Gas Co. had visited the building yesterday afternoon, police were told, and had blown out the pipes, and had failed to turn off the gas when leaving. Mrs. Sadie Bresser, police report, lighted the match. The women were burned on their faces, arms and necks.

NO NEWS OF HENNEBERRY BOYS

Supposition That Missing Children Had Followed Circus Apparently Incorrect.

Supposition of relatives that James and Edward Henneberry, 8 and 9 years old, sons of Lieut. Edward Henneberry of Engine Company No. 10, who disappeared after a visit to Forest Park Sunday night, had followed the Sells-Floto circus from the city, was shattered last night, when police received a message from the police of Indianapolis, Ind., telling them no trace of the boys could be found around the circus, which is playing there this week.

The boys lived at 5638 Moffat avenue under the care of an aunt. Sunday she gave them some money and they started for the park to view the parade of the 119th Ammunition Train. They have not been seen or heard from since.

Springtime epidemics of colds, grippé, influenza and pneumonia are made possible because thousands of men, women and children are constantly thin-blooded and weak-bodied. Well-fortified bodies resist disease far better than feeble, poison-clogged ones. Keep your blood rich and red with right habits of living. At the first sign of a run-down condition take Gude's Pepto-Mangan.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan

"The Red Blood Builder"

Better than anything else to take in Spring is this splendid Gude's Pepto-Mangan, a blood builder and purifier. It supplies the red cells with elements that increase their number and oxygen-carrying capacity. Thus they are able to carry and distribute oxygen to every cell and tissue. And oxygen is health, vigor and vitality—the breath of life itself. Gude's Pepto-Mangan is easy to digest, exceedingly pleasant to taste. Universally prescribed by the medical profession.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, April 17.—Miss Boutet, who has just died at Perpignan, at the age of 75, has left her fortune to France to be devoted to the work of rebuilding churches destroyed by the Germans. The amount will exceed $100,000 francs, or $100,000.

MAN WHO LEFT $25 TO WIFE DIED BY POISON
Inquest Verdict Is Left Open to Determine If Drug Was Self-Administered.

A coroner's jury investigating the sudden death Tuesday of John A. Niedling, 70 years old, in bed at his home, 1421 Dillon street, returned a verdict today of death from carbolic acid poisoning. The case was ordered held open by the coroner pending further investigation by the police to determine, if possible, if the poison was self-administered or not, no evidence having been introduced on this point. An autopsy was performed.

Niedling left a will in which he bequeathed $25, together with his love and affection, to his wife, Mrs. Wilhelmina Niedling, 71 years old, with the statement that his love and affection was "more than she had for him while living." The remainder of his property was left to Mrs. Kate Stothoff, proprietor of an undertaking establishment at 1044 Park avenue, designed as his "dear friend."

Mrs. Niedling testified at the inquest that she and Niedling were married Jan. 10 last, but that the relationship was unfriendly and they did not associate with each other. Niedling lived to himself in the basement and she in a room on an upper floor. She said he would not allow her to cook his meals or serve him otherwise than as his landlady, and that the last time she saw him was Monday.

Sch said that shortly after they were married Niedling demanded her money and that she gave him $400, which she inherited from a former husband. After she gave him the money, she testified, Niedling's attitude toward her changed and he treated her coolly.

Niedling carried a note in his pocket giving directions for disposition of his body in the event of his death and is said to have expressed fear his death was impending.

His funeral will be conducted from the Stothoff establishment.

LIQUOR MEN TO PROTEST TO PRESIDENT ON DRY ENFORCEMENT
Content That Rights of $5,000 Dealers Would Be Subject to "Sacrilegious Confiscation."

By the Associated Press.
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 8.—A protest to President Wilson against the enforcement of the July 1 prohibition order was adopted by the National Liquor Dealers' Association in session here.

The association protest requests the President to suspend the order which "would add 2,000,000 men to the army of unemployed in the nation." It is set forth that there are $5,000 liquor dealers "who would be subject to an inexcusable injustice, a sacrilegious and tyrannical confiscation of their business rights, and besides the Government would lose the taxes on 50,000,000 gallons of stock on hand."

It was contended by F. A. Bollen, New York, counsel for the allied interests engaged in the liquor industry, that 19 of the 36 states that were proclaimed as having ratified the prohibition amendments had laws compelling the submission of such an amendment to a referendum and that until the amendment had been ratified by the people it was not constitutionally enacted.

On these grounds Bollen contended that it would be necessary to refer the amendment to a referendum for a ratification in order for the Secretary of State to issue a new proclamation on prohibition and that the amendment would not go into effect until a year after the issuance of the second proclamation. Bollen said he anticipated there would be court proceedings along this line.

RECEPTION AT "DOLLAR DANCE"
Children's Hospital to Greet Returned War Soldiers and Nurses.
The St. Louis Children's Hospital will tender the returned men and women of its hospital staff who have been in war service a public reception at the Coliseum the night of May 23. The reception will be in connection with and as an interlude in the "dollar dance" to be given at the Coliseum that night, under the auspices of the hospital executive board.

So many physicians and nurses of the Children's Hospital forces joined the service that the institution was forced to abandon the country department for ailing and convalescent children. The reopening of the department is waiting on the outcome of the "dollar dance. For the re-establishment of the country home and its maintenance for a year $30,000 is needed.

CHILDREN'S CODE BILLS WOMEN'S CLUBS TOPIC

Missouri Federation Delegates
Discuss Address by Mrs. Fox at Second Day's Session.

The principal topic of discussion placed before the convention of the Missouri Federation of Women's Clubs at the Platters Hotel, which convened this forenoon, was the address of Mrs. Gilbert H. Fox of St. Louis, chairman of the Legislation and Civil Service Committee, who discussed the bills of the Missouri children's code now pending before the State Legislature.

In all 51 bills, concerning the education and care of not only delinquent but normal children, were drafted by experts at the instance of the Missouri Children's Code Commission. Many of these, Mrs. Fox pointed out in her talk, were killed in committee in the House, but 14 bills have passed and are awaiting the ratification of the Senate.

Those interested fear that adjournment of the Legislature will interfere with action on the pending measures and at the opening of the session Wednesday night a telegram was sent asking the ratification of the bills. Mrs. Lucille Lowenstein, secretary of the commission, who was to speak this morning on "Laying the Foundation for the Rising Generation," was prevented from attending the convention owing to the fact that she is now in Jefferson City making efforts to secure the passage of the proposed measures.

Divides Into Conferences.
The morning session opened with a program of assembly singing, followed by addresses on "Industrial and Social Service," by Mrs. George A. Dean of Rolla, and "The League of Nations," by Charles M. Hay, St. Louis attorney. At 11 a. m. the convention broke up into five conferences on fine arts, legislation and civil service, industrial and social conditions, educational and press.

A noon luncheon was held at the Platters in honor of officers and guests. The afternoon program included an automobile ride through the parks and residence district, a reception at the Art Museum and a Victory pageant depicting "The Triumph of Democracy" at the Pershing theater, 5917 Delmar boulevard.

At the evening session, in addition to a program of music, there will be addresses on conservation by Mrs. Jonathan Hawley and Mrs. John Dickinson Sherman. The Government thrift campaign will be discussed by L. A. Wilson, Government director, savings division, of the Eighth Federal Reserve District. Mrs. William D. Steel will speak on "Americanization in Music," and Charles Fergler, commissioner of the Czechoslovak Republic in the United States, will take up "A New and Advanced Experiment in Democracy."

Few Contests for Offices.
Balloting closed this morning for the election of officers. From a political standpoint the convention is quiet, few contests being made for offices. For the newly-created office of second vice president the names of Mrs. A. E. Retou of St. Louis, Mrs. John H. Himmelburger of Cape Girardeau, Mrs. J. W. Crewdson of Louisiana and Mrs. O. W. Beck of Farmington have been mentioned. Mrs. Harry Ducrest of Springfield, is opposing Miss Nova Woodside of St. Louis, the incumbent, for recording secretary. A vacancy may be created by the resignation of Mrs. C. Evans of Sedalia, general federation state secretary, who it is thought will not accept re-election on account of illness.

Although the convention closes tomorrow night, Saturday will be shopping day at St. Louis stores. The stores will be decorated in yellow and white, and white crabapple blossoms.

138TH; GEN. TRAUB UNLIKELY TO

Commander of Regiment in Argonne
Appears Not to Have Been Invited Here Tomorrow.

It now seems likely that the 138th Infantry, when it parades in St. Louis tomorrow, will not be reviewed by either of the two Major-Generals, now in this part of the United States, who commanded the Thirty-fifth Division at the most important periods of its history.

Major-General William M. Wright, who recently accepted an invitation from the Mayor's Welcome Committee to review the parade, telegraphed yesterday that he would be unable to keep the appointment. He trained the Thirty-fifth Division, including the 138th Regiment, at Camp Doniphan, Ok., and took the division to France. He is now at Camp Funston for the demobilization of the Thirty-fifth Division and later will command Camp Dodge, Io.

Major-General Peter E. Traub, who commanded the division in the Argonne battle, where it experienced its hardest fighting and its heaviest losses, is now in command of Camp Pike, Ark. He has been in St. Louis twice in the last two months, has spoken at several large gatherings, and has said that he would certainly be on hand when the 138th should return here.

It could not be learned today that the Mayor's committee had communicated in any way with Gen. Traub, or that anyone in authority had invited him to be here tomorrow.

At the headquarters of the Mayor's committee it was said that in the matter of invitations the wishes of the relatives' auxiliary organizations had been followed, and that the invitation to Gen. Wright had been sent at the request of these organizations. A woman officer of the auxiliary organizations said that Gen. Wright, having trained the regiment, was considered the proper officer to review it here, and that if he were not present that feature of the review would simply be omitted.

Two Men Hold Up Grocery Driver and When He Says He Hasn't the Money They Get It From His Mother.

Two men in an automobile stopped Albert Deubig, 505 Park avenue, driver for a grocery concern, as he proceeded west in Chouteau avenue near Fourteenth street at 4 p. m. yesterday.

They ordered him to stop. One of the men got out of the machine and critically examined the horse's teeth. "Um! They sure need filing," he remarked, looking serious.

"What do you mean?" inquired Deubig.

"We gotta file those teeth. We're U. S. inspectors and you can't drive a horse with teeth like that." He dragged forth from the machine a large horse shoe's file which he scraped back and forth across the horse's molars, much to Dobbin's discomfort.

As he put the file back in place he held out his hand. "That'll just be $4," he remarked. Deubig protested. "Have to look you up then," said the "inspector."

Deubig thought his mother might have the money. The men ordered him to drive to her home at 502 Park avenue. There the "inspector" drew up an order for the $4 and had Deubig sign it.

The mother protested, too. "We'll have to look up the boy," the man said. The mother surrendered and handed over the $4. The men drove away.

NEGRO SLAYER OF WOMAN

IS SENTENCED TO 10 YEARS

State Had Offered a 2 Years' Punishment if He Would Plead Guilty.

Simon Clay, a negro, 35 years old, of 4211 Cook avenue, who last January shot and killed Rosie Bee, a negro, was found guilty of second degree murder and sentenced to 10 years in Judge Garesche's Court yesterday afternoon after he had rejected an offer of a two-year sentence if he would plead guilty.

George Warner, a negro, the only eye-witness, died 10 days ago. This materially weakened the state's case, and caused Assistant Circuit Attorney Lawrence O'Brien to make the compromise offer to Clay.

The state's only witness was a policeman who ran to 2925 Olive street, where the slain woman resided, when he heard the shot that killed her. He testified that the killing was accidental, and resulted from the woman stepping between him and Warner while they were scuffling.

RAFT OFFERS G. O. P. POLICIES

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, May 8.—Former President Taft, speaking in Chicago before the Hamilton Club yesterday, urged the Republican party to make an issue of the return of the railroads to private ownership. Fair treatment of the new labor class, he said, should be another issue.

He advised the club's Republican membership that confirmation of the league of nations and peace treaty should not be withheld because confirmation might possibly add to President Wilson's prestige.

HERNSTEIN APPEALS TO MARRIED WOMEN HOLDING JOBS

Takes Position Those Who Replaced Men Who Went to War Should Now Give Them to Fighters.
Chairman Hertenstein of the Efficiency Board, who for the past two weeks has been hearing complaints from soldiers who have been unable to obtain their old jobs, has received several complaints that married women who got places through appeals to patriotism during the war are still holding them and thereby keeping soldiers, sailors and marines out of work.

A letter received this morning from a discharged soldier complains that his job with an express company is held by a woman whose husband has an excellent post with a civil engineering firm and who is able to support her well.

Hertenstein takes the position that women in this category should immediately resign in favor of the returned fighter. He says it is, of course, necessary for some women to work to earn a livelihood, but considers it highly unpatriotic for any woman who is supported comfortably by a husband to hold place merely in order to obtain money for luxuries and fine clothes.

35 MEN FROM 7 FAMILIES SURVIVE MILITARY SERVICE

Furnish 3 Others in Non-military Work, a Total of 38, and All Come Out Alive and With Honor.

SEVERAL WOUNDED
AND ONE CAPTURED

All but One Group Has Been Partially Reunited Since Fighting Ended—Many Branches Represented.

Seven St. Louis families that gave from four to six sons or brothers each to their country's service during the war are rejoicing that all of them served with honor and came out alive, although several were wounded and one was held captive in Germany for seven months. Between them, they furnished Uncle Sam 35 soldiers and sailors, and in addition three workers in nonmilitary service. All of the families except one have been partially reunited since the fighting ended.

William Ryan, 1408 North Market street, had six sons in the service; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Morgan, 4226W Kossuth avenue, six sons; Mr. and Mrs. George T. Farrar, 5457 Union boulevard, five sons and a son-in-law; Mr. and Mrs. William E. Wightman, 8559 Mora Lane, six sons; Mrs. Goldie Meglitsch, 2317 University street, husband and four brothers; Mrs. John Graham, 1407A Bell avenue, four sons and a daughter; Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Brownell, 4412 Delmar boulevard, four sons.

Three of Ryan's sons have been discharged and are at home. They are Joseph and John, who were in the navy, and Richard, who was in C-Company, Twenty-ninth Machine Gun Battalion. The three still in the service are: Martin, quartermaster on the U. S. S. Nevada, with two months yet to serve of a four-year enlistment; William J., a hospital attendant at Camp Stewart, Newport News, Va., and Frank, hospital attendant at a convalescent house near Bordeaux, France. The father is a fireman at the Postoffice.

One of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan's sons, Father John R. Morgan, served as a chaplain. He expects to remain in the army indefinitely, having recently written home that he liked the work. He is now post chaplain at the Presidio, San Francisco, Cal., with rank of First Lieutenant. He was formerly assistant to Father Coffey at St. Leo's Church.

The other five Morgan boys have all returned home with their discharges. Bernard and Daniel were members of ships' bands on transports, entertaining troops on their voyages to and from Europe. Clarence was a coast artilleryman, stationed on the Atlantic coast. George was a camp fireman at Camp Funston, Kan., and William was a shipbuilder in an Eastern yard.

One Wounded at Soissons.
One of Mr. and Mrs. Farrar's sons, Frank, aged 19, is in a hospital at Le Havre, France, convalescing from a severe wound in his left leg received in a battle near Soissons last July. He has written that he is doing nicely and will be home soon. He belongs to the Seventeenth Company, Fifth Regiment, Marine Corps.

Alex de Vouton, 29, who married Miss Ethel Farrar, is in E Company, Twelfth (St. Louis) Engineers, expected home soon. His 13-months old baby, Alex, Jr., will see his father for the first time after the regiment parades here. Arthur Farrar, who is married, has returned to his home at 5327 Geraldine avenue. He was a first-class machinist on the naval supply ship Lake Placid.

George R. Farrar, 23, is in D Company, 214th Engineers, Eighty-ninth Division, now on the Rhine. He is a First Sergeant. Roy J. Farrar, who is only 17, is a seaman on the U. S. S. New Jersey. Elmer, 15, is on board the George Washington, the President's ship. Ray Farrar, 17, a twin brother of Roy, tried several times to enlist in the navy but was rejected.

The father is an inspector in the shipping department of the American Brake Co., Broadway and Tyler street. The employees of the firm presented his family with a six-star service flag. All of the Farrars in the service volunteered.

As previously published in the Post-Dispatch, the six sons of Mr. and Mrs. Wightman were in the army and navy and not one of them was in any way incapacitated by causes traceable to the war. One of their sons, a West Pointer, is with the army of occupation, one is at the Great Lakes Naval Training Camp, three are at home, and one, who is discharged, is now at Phoenix, Ariz.

Waived Deferred Classification.
Mrs. Meglitsch's husband, George, waived deferred classification at her request and was in a Camp Funston draft contingent. The wife then promptly secured employment, working for a time as an elevator operator in the Post-Dispatch Building.

One of her brothers, Machinist Marvin Bennett, was severely wounded in France. Two others, William and Arthur, saw overseas service in the Marine Corps, the former being a sharpshooter. The fourth brother, Jack Bennett, had a disabled right hand and could not pass the army physical examinations, but answered the Government's call for shipbuilders. He worked as a riveter.

One of the sons of Mrs. Graham,

Edward A., 34 years old, was wounded and captured at Chateau-Thierry and held captive in Germany until after the armistice was signed. He is now in the naval hospital at Brooklyn. He served with Eighty-third Company of the Sixth Regiment of Marines. He enlisted May 18, 1917.

Another son, Robert J., 26 years old, is in the post hospital at Jefferson Barracks recuperating from illness contracted while he was in service overseas with the 29th Motor Transport Corps. He returned from France May 1. Charles A. Graham, who was also a member of the 29th Motor Transport Corps, is still in France.

The oldest brother, John F., 28 years old, was a Sergeant in the band of the Twenty-eighth Field Artillery at Camp Funston, and on account of an influenza epidemic among the members of his organization did not go overseas. The youngest of the five brothers also wanted to enlist, but was prevailed upon to await his turn in the selective draft because of his father's illness and the absence of the other four boys. His father, who was a conductor on the Clayton car line, died about two months ago.

Daughter Gets Medal.
Mrs. Graham's daughter, Helen, 22 years old, was in the Government service at Washington from June, 1918, until February, 1919, as a long distance telephone supervisor. She was given a silver service medal upon leaving the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Brownell's youngest son, Richard, is expected home with the 138th Infantry. He is a member of A Company, and is 21 years old. Leo A. Brownell, 27 years old, is a Lieutenant in the 138th Motor Transportation Corps, formerly the Sixty-ninth Engineers, and is now stationed at Tours. He attended the engineer officers' school at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind. Crendon Brownell, 23 years old, is a Sergeant in E Company, First Infantry, stationed at Camp Lewis, Tacoma, Wash. He joined the regular army in 1916 and went with Pershing's expedition into Mexico. Thursday.

The oldest son, Ralph D., 30 years old, obtained employment at shipbuilding early in the war after he had been rejected upon physical examination for the army. He worked at Muscle Shoals, Ala., and at Portsmouth, Va. He returned home last Thursday.

A Permanent Record of the ACHIEVEMENTS of the 35th DIVISION

The St. Louis Republic has compiled and published a sixty-page magazine section devoted entirely to interesting things concerning the 35th Division. In addition to containing a complete record of what the 35th accomplished in the war, a list of casualties, the origin of the various units and their incorporation with the National Army, there are hundreds of pictures of men and scenes—official photographs furnished by the Government. All this is worked up into a

Come On, St. Louis

To-morrow our boys of the 138th will come home. For the first time in nearly two years they will set foot on the streets of dear old St. Louis.

How good the old town will look to them. How happy they will be to get back after long months of fighting and hardships.

If these boys had not fought and won we would have the German hordes goose-stepping down our streets. There would be no joyous crowds to welcome them—but shutters would be closed, houses dark and our people would be terror-stricken.

But the Hun will never set foot in our fair city; for our boys have forever shattered the Hun's dream of world conquest.

And now we will turn out to welcome these boys who have made our homes secure.

We owe them a great debt of gratitude. Wouldn't it be wonderful if we could greet them with the word that St. Louis had kept faith with them to the very end.

Wouldn't it be joyous news to them to learn to-morrow that, with St. Louis over the top, the St. Louis District had three times led the country in supporting our boys, and had made good on its promise to

Make It Three Straight and Finish the Job Right

We can do this—we will do it—if the people of St. Louis will come forward and make their subscriptions to-day. It is what we do to-day that will determine what we can say to "our boys" to-morrow.

Don't wait—it is better to subscribe to-day than to explain to-morrow. Let's act to-day in the good old St. Louis way and to-morrow show our boys that we have stood by them loyally as they stood by us.

St. Louis never had a bigger challenge than these boys will give us to-morrow. How will we meet it—with heads up or heads down? It's up to you.

Go to the nearest Victory Loan headquarters or to your bank and subscribe to-day.

Come On, St. Louis Women

If you haven't bought a Victory Bond, won't you please do it tomorrow to celebrate the home-coming of the 138th, and to show your joy and thanksgiving that the war is over and our boys are back.

The St. Louis Women's Victory Loan Committee appeals to every loyal, true blue American woman to help "finish the job." St. Louis women have never failed yet in patriotic work, and we can't fail now.

Go to your ward headquarters tomorrow (Friday) and buy a bond, or if you have already bought, buy another one if possible. The time payments make bond buying easy. And remember you are making the best investment in the world when you buy a bond. This means YOU who are reading this ad this minute.

"Come on, St. Louis women, buy a bond to-morrow."

If you don't know where your ward headquarters are phone Olive 6940 and find out.

Bring Flowers for the 138th

St. Louis will strew flowers in the path of our boys tomorrow. Trucks will be stationed Friday morning from 8 to 9 a. m. at Grand and Lindell, Grand and Shenandoah and Grand and Hebert.

Cut the flowers from your yard and leave them at one of these trucks on your way downtown to-morrow morning. By doing this you will help to do homage to our returning heroes.

GROUND BROKEN FOR JOURNALISM BUILDING

New Structure at University of Missouri to Cost $60,000—Gift by Alumnus.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. Ground was broken for the new Journalism building at the University of Missouri here this morning. The ceremony followed the announcement that the building, which is to cost $60,000, is the gift of Ward A. Coffey of Kansas City, an alumnus of the school of Journalism, now vice president of the Corn Belt farm duties. The building is to be the new school of Journalism by Neff as a memorial to his father, the late J. H. Neff, founder of the Corn Belt farm duties, and former Mayor of Kansas City.

Men Who Turned First Earth. Neff turned the first spadeful of earth for the new building. He was followed by President A. Ross Hild, of the university, C. H. Rollins of Columbia, a member of the board of curators for the university; J. P. Tucker of Parkville, Mo., president of the Missouri Press Association; J. Preston of Gillespie, Ill., president of the Illinois Press Association; Walter Williams, dean of the school of Journalism; Frank Dill, American correspondent for the London Daily Chronicle; John Callan O'Laughlin, former Washington correspondent of the Chicago Tribune; Robert W. Woolley, a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission; George E. Hanner, of Des Moines, chairman of the executive committee of the National Editorial Association; Vaughn Bryant of Kansas City, representing the alumni of the school; John H. Casey of Knoxville, Tenn., representing the present student body; James H. McClain of Willow Springs, Mo., president of the Daily Missouri board, and Miss Marvina Campbell, representing the women students of the school.

Will Be Built on Quadrangle. The new Journalism building is to be built on the quadrangle at the university, on the ground now partly occupied by the law observatory. It will face the columns. It is to be built in the same style of architecture as the old buildings on the campus, red brick and white stone being used in its construction. It is the first new building to be erected on the quadrangle since the construction of Academic Hall in 1895, and is the first building to be built with funds donated by an alumnus.

The building, which will be ready for occupancy about the first of next year, is the first of its kind to be built in the United States, embodying as it does all the requisites of a complete small city newspaper plant and of a school as well. It will be fitted up as a model newspaper plant and will be used for issuance of the Evening Missourian, the laboratory product of the school.

12TH ENGINEERS TO START FOR ST. LOUIS SATURDAY

Col. Laird, Telegraphs That 576 Men and 25 Officers Will Come Here. Parade Likely to Be Monday. The Twelfth Engineers, a St. Louis regiment, now at Camp Upton, Yaphank, N. Y., will start for St. Louis Saturday, according to a message received by the Mayor's Welcome Committee from Col. John A. Laird, commanding the regiment. Col. Laird said the hour of departure was not known to him. It is believed the regiment will arrive here in time to parade Monday afternoon, before proceeding to Camp Funston for demobilization. Only about one-half of the regiment, it appears, will come to St. Louis, the rest, being from other parts of the country, being sent to other camps than Funston. Col. Laird said 576 men and 25 officers would come here.

40 ST. LOUISANS TO GO THROUGH HERE IN TRENCH MORTAR UNIT

Two members of the 110th Trench Mortar Battery, of the 35th Division, have written to the Post-Dispatch from Camp Dix, N. J., saying they would pass through St. Louis, and wished their friends to know the fact. They said they would parade in Kansas City, although there were, they said, about 400 men in the battery, and no Kansas City men so far as they knew. They asked why their parade should not be in St. Louis.

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT DEFEATED

Special to the Post-Dispatch. JEFFERSON CITY, May 8.—The House yesterday defeated the bill to restore the death penalty in Missouri. The bill after a bitter debate received only 69 votes, three less than a constitutional majority.

300 MEN OF 10TH SUPPLY TRAIN HOME

Members of 35th Division Who Paraded Here Sunday Were Discharged at Camp Funston.

About 300 members of the 10th Supply Train of the Thirty-fifth Division, who paraded in St. Louis last Sunday and were discharged from the army at Camp Funston, Kan., arrived home on three trains at 7 and 9 a. m. today. A large crowd of their relatives and friends were at Union Station to welcome them.

"All Set For a Big Time." The men arrived at Union Station in happy humor and were greeted by prolonged applause by the crowd. Sgt. John McDonald of 4126 2nd St. was the first to speak. "I feel like a wild bird just liberated from long confinement in a cage," he exclaimed. "What are you going to do now, John," he was asked. "I'm all set for a good, big time," he responded, "for a job."

"Much Obligated, But This Is Home." Y. M. C. A. Red Cross, K. of C. and other clear workers were brushed aside by the men, who hastened to greet their relatives. "Much obligated, but this is home," exclaimed one husky youth as he sailed into the arms of a young woman, "this is MY HOME, and I don't need you any more."

This man said he was going to take a vacation of two weeks, chiefly in resting and sleeping, and then get back to work with a will. Not a minute was lost by the men to be on the way to their homes and "the big city," as some of them expressed it. They did not linger about the welfare canteens, as is the wont of soldiers, and a few minutes after they alighted from the trains the station was clear of them.

DEMONSTRATION FOR THE 140TH AT CAPE GIRARDEAU TOMORROW

Regiment to Reach There Tonight on Three Trains—Will Go Through St. Louis. Special to the Post-Dispatch. CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo., May 8.—Three special trains with the entire 140th Regiment of the Thirty-fifth Division 1800 men will arrive in Cape Girardeau tonight. The men will rest all night and at 8 a. m. tomorrow will march to Fairgrounds Park, where regimental maneuvers will be held. The regiment will remain about five hours tomorrow in Cape Girardeau and then pass through St. Louis on its way to Camp Funston.

ALL FOUR SECTIONS OF TRAIN WITH 137TH PASSED HERE

The Men Are Mostly From Kansas and Will Be Demobilized at Funston. The third and fourth sections of the 137th Infantry, from Kansas, members of the Thirty-fifth Division, passed through St. Louis yesterday, bound for Camp Funston, Kan., with a total of 957 men and officers. The first train passed through at 6:15 a. m. and the other at 12:45 p. m. The first unit of this regiment reached St. Louis Tuesday morning and the second at 10:30 o'clock Tuesday night.

GETS 3 BLACK HAND LETTERS

Police Lieutenant Bill Passed. Special to the Post-Dispatch. JEFFERSON CITY, May 8.—The Senate last night passed the Chaney bill creating 15 additional lieutenantcies on the St. Louis police force.

PROTESTS TO POLICE AGAINST SPEED OF 'TIN LIZZIE CHASERS'

Dr. T. M. Sayman Declares Youthful Drivers "Ford Lightning Express Trucks" 40 Miles an Hour.

A vigorous protest against the speeding of what he calls "tin lizzie chasers" and "Ford lightning express trucks" was made yesterday by Dr. T. M. Sayman, head of the Sayman Products Co., 2111-17 Franklin avenue. In a letter Dr. Sayman invites the Chief of Police to take up his stand "any day" and "any time" in territory "south of Market street" on "north of Franklin avenue" and see for himself the "open violations of the speed laws" by youthful drivers of light trucks.

"Thirty and 40 miles an hour for these reckless drivers," Dr. Sayman says in his letter. "The lives of pedestrians and vehicle drivers are endangered hundreds of times a day by the carelessness of these speeders for law or the speed laws. They race over the streets, especially the cross streets, at a rate that puts lives in jeopardy every minute."

Chief O'Brien sent a copy of the letter to the commander of each police district, with instructions to have the letter read at three roll calls each week. The letter also contains a statement of the Chief's office showing that the letter has been read.

WOMAN'S BODY IN THE RIVER

Taken From Water Near Schwartz-trauer's Park.

The body of a woman 25 or 30 years old was taken from the water near Schwartz-trauer's Park, opposite the Davis street ferry landing. The clothing consisted of a green sweater coat, dark blue skirt, black stockings and gray laced shoes. On a finger was a gold band ring. The body was taken to the Benner & Brichler morgue in East St. Louis.

HEALTH HINTS.

THE POST-DISPATCH PLAT-FORM

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent, never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

JOSEPH PULITZER.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Workers, Gamblers and Profiters.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Upon the 3d instant, in an editorial upon the Soviet system and compulsory service, the editor of the Post-Dispatch says that said system as practiced in Russia is "wasteful and results in starvation."

The statement is not convincing, as I learn from very reliable sources that Russia is getting along fairly well, notwithstanding outside interference with her domestic affairs. The editor says, furthermore, if such a system should place us all upon easy street materially, it would be at the sacrifice of liberty and individualism, and most of us prize liberty above material possessions or comfort.

All very well, and glibly spoken by one in present possession of each of these material blessings, but even the immortal Patrick Henry, had he lived through his life, as the Russians have, without material possessions, comfort or liberty, might have been satisfied with a gift of the two first-named benefits, and have allowed liberty to stand in abeyance until some more opportune time. As a matter of fact the Russians have attained all of these desirable features of life at one swoop.

From the tenor of the editorial in question, we are left to infer that it is necessary that there should be a select coterie of idlers to receive the excess profits and the surplus of the wealth that is produced by the workers. That is the system that has been in operation since the days of feudalism, and judging from the meager reports that we are permitted to receive, the great majority of mankind is dissatisfied with the system.

T. N.

A Masterpiece.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Your editorial in last Sunday's Post-Dispatch, "The Politics of Ideas," is beyond question a masterpiece.

There is a reason for the Post-Dispatch leading all newspapers in this State. You are the only St. Louis paper that has the understanding of public opinion and the courage to openly fight corruption to the last. Your fight on the United Railways has now proved to your readers that you have knowledge of and courage to fight crooked manipulation and bias politics.

POST-DISPATCH ENTHUSIAST.

Christmas Gifts Not Received.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

A short time before last Christmas, mothers, sisters and friends of the boys in the 138th Infantry and 158th Field Artillery collected a sum of money to be used as Christmas gifts for their boys over there. When these good women were standing on street corners in the downtown district asking for this money, and when they also canvassed a great many of the business houses, we were glad indeed to chip in, and we thought the idea a good one.

After these women raised all this money and turned it in, what became of it? That's what I would like to know.

I am asking this for the reason that my brother, who is a member of Battery A, 128th Field Artillery, and who turned last week from France, did not receive any of this money as a gift, either in money or otherwise, and he said moreover that he did not hear of any of the other members of his company receiving such a gift. I do not know whether any of the boys in the 138th received anything.

Now, we folks here were glad to give our bit to make the boys a little happier on Christmas day, but alas, this money caused no such happiness. Where is this money, and if it is not too late now, have it sent when the 138th reaches St. Louis? Delay now may mean misfortune. HARRY LEIMKEHLER.
4159 Castleman avenue.

Ignoring the Flag.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Tuesday I stood on a corner watching the 129th F. A. parade and the flag passed. Being only a woman I drew no attention, but only three men that were standing on the same corner removed their hats. Doesn't the flag stand for as much in peace times as it does in war times?

I wear a gold star for a brother formerly in the Thirty-fifth Division, and it seems a shame that the flag does not get the respect it is entitled to.

JUST A STENO.

A New Mortgage Needed.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

St. Louis is spending a lot of money improving its streets, parks, which are very necessary and beneficial to our city and its people, but why not build a new morgue in place of that old shack as it now stands? St. Louis should have a new morgue, the best that could be built for a city of its size. Think if something should happen here like happened in Chicago, a great number of people drowned or killed and it was necessary to move at once to the city hall a place to be identified or claimed, what would we do with a shack like the one we have now? All our other public buildings are in fine shape and so should our morgue be. A TAXPAYER.

THE KEYSTONE OF PEACE.

The peace treaty strips Germany of military power. Imperialism, militarism, Kruppism are swept into the waste basket. The whole system of national expansion and imperial aggrandizement through force of arms built by the Hohenzollerns vanishes. The structure of autocratic imperialism erected by blood and iron, as the foundation of world domination, falls.

Germany is stripped of territory, all of which except the Saar Basin represents military conquest and annexation in the past. The Saar Basin is held for reparation to France for ruined coal mines and provision is made for its final disposition according to the will of the inhabitants. None of the territory, except Alsace-Lorraine, which belonged to France, is taken for the expansion of the great Powers which overcame Germany. It goes to new nations which have sprung into existence through the freeing of subject peoples. The principles of justice and of democratic self-determination run through the territorial changes.

Provision is made for reparation to Belgium and France, the justice of which Germany's own peace delegates admit. Germany must pay about $5,000,000,000 at once and make restitution, ton for ton, for shipping and in kind for destruction of resources and materials.

The terms of the treaty are severe, but their justice cannot be denied. They are based upon the principles accepted in the armistice and are designed to accomplish the enduring peace, the final conditions of which are to be worked out by the League of Nations. Under the old regime of imperialism to which Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau justly ascribes the woes of old Europe, the peace terms would be intolerable. Germany would be naked to her enemies—a lamb thrown to the wolves. But under the conditions of the principles of peace defined by President Wilson and the League of Nations designed for their ultimate fulfillment, Germany is stripped of nothing that belongs to her or that would be anything but a burden. She retains all of Germany proper and the German people, relieved of the ruinous weight and control of militarism, have the opportunity to work out in amicable co-operation with other nations their salvation and a great destiny as a peaceable, industrious, progressive people.

Unfortunately, the statesmen of Europe and large elements of the European peoples are still thinking in terms of the old regime of military imperialism. France has fears which lead to demands that are unjustified under the new regime of democracy. To quiet these fears she asks peace insurance from Great Britain and the United States. Italy has similar fears and demands guarantees of safety against her helpless, disintegrated enemy.

Concessions have been made to these fears, with the expectation that they will vanish under the new regime of international justice and democratic co-operation. Provision is made for future settlements when, through the friendly co-operation of nations to guarantee justice and peace, a wholesome public sentiment will support equity in international dealings and assure safety for the peoples.

It is impossible to read the summary of the peace treaty without the conviction that the League of Nations is an essential factor. It is rightly made the foundation stone upon which the whole structure is based. It is in truth, as Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, hanging upon it all German hope for the future and the hope of the world for just peace, designates it, "The greatest progress in the development of mankind" and the only means by which, if it is opened to all peoples of good will, enduring peace can be attained and compensation obtained for the dead of the war.

Peace is the dominant thought in the mind of mankind. Its conclusion with the result of the peace conference's labors is the ardent wish of all peoples. But the peace terms only clear away the rubbish of the old system and open the way to peace. The League of Nations is the only fair guarantee that our aims of just, enduring peace will be gained and that the democratic reconstruction of the world will be accomplished. It is our only hope of gathering the fruits of the war's sacrifices and sufferings. We do not believe that any people, much less the American people, will reject this bright hope—this one thing which offers promise that our dead shall not have died in vain.

Declaring that the Y. M. C. A. did its full war duty, George W. Perkins cites the fact that 14 of its secretaries were killed. Whatever we think about this organization's record as a whole, we can all subscribe unreservedly to these 14 points.

SQUARE DEAL FOR THE NATIONAL GUARD.

In any serious differences between the National Guard and the regular army, the natural inclination of the public would be to side with the National Guard, made up of a citizen soldiery and very close to the people. Such denunciations of the regular establishment as were voiced by Lieutenant-Colonel Bennett C. Clark at the St. Louis meeting of the national organization of guardsmen, were, however, too intemperate to carry conviction. It is not necessary to "smash the regular army" to obtain justice for the guardsmen. A note sounded at the meeting comes from so many other sources that we must assume the guardsmen have grievances, undoubtedly just grievances. The National Guard ought to have a square deal and the public will insist that they shall have it. If injustice has been done, it must be corrected. If deserved recognition for heroic service has been withheld, it must be accorded. There is glory enough to go round and it is not too late to see that it goes round.

But as for a peace army composed chiefly of the National Guard, it is too early to discuss such a proposal. Preparedness plans for the future will be perfected in due time and may embody radical departures from the ideas of the past.

Those citizens of Massachusetts, 125,000 in number, who have petitioned the Legislature to permit the sale of beer and light wines, presumably imagine that the Legislature is still the law-making body. It will be something of a shock to the descendants of the Pilgrim Fathers to learn that popular government has disappeared in the United States and we are now living in the dynasty of the intolerant.

THE LUXURY TAXES.

From the New York Times.

THE luxury taxes were "a play to the gallery," a pandering to the sentiment that the too rich should be discriminated against in favor of the less rich. A general consumption tax would have caught the rich of all degrees. But the general consumption tax was rejected in favor of a discriminating tax which has some merits, but more faults, and chief one being that it falls to an unexpected degree on those whom it was sought to prefer by letting them buy without an added tax. So long as there are degrees of wealth it must remain true that what is luxury to one man is necessary to another, and a horizontal line on articles of universal use must be unjust at varying points on the scale of prices. The point was met in the income tax by graduating it, but a luxury tax cannot be graduated in the general market. For example, a leading seller of corsets raised the question whether a corset is underwear, and whether a corset is a luxury or a necessity, especially when made at an exceptionally high price to remedy some peculiarity of manufacture of figure, in either man or woman. There is a tax on silk stockings over $1 for men and over $2 for women, but none on 10 gold stockings of wool. A custom tailor is advertising that there is no tax on his custom-made suits, and suits are not on the list of taxable men's wear. But shirts over $3 are taxed, and nightwear over $5, and smoking jackets over $7.50. It would be tedious to follow out the classifications by names of articles, but there is a reason for referring to them by these examples. There are 18 subdivisions, and the shops are required to make separate reports for each of them. Each sale must be accounted for separately each month, and track must be kept of exchanges, of sales on approval, of canceled sales, and so on endlessly. It may be done where accounting systems are efficient, but what is to be expected in the innumerable stores where accounts are kept only by cash registers?

The law must be worked somehow, until it is repealed. Meanwhile it will be tempered to the shorn buyers and sellers by the treasury's interpretation. They will be as ingenious as the administration of the income tax law, and as amusing as the tariff classifications. If a tax is levied on an article of a certain name, what is easier than to change the name, and the tax with the name? If soda water is taxable when sold at a soda water fountain, what can be simpler than to sell soda water somewhere else, where the treasury's first aid is the worried, whom it threatens with fine and prison, distinguishes between certain articles sold at soda fountains and rules that many of them are not taxable. Presumably, ice cream sodas are taxable, but ice cream is not. The question of what is beer is merely a primary lesson compared to the question as to what is a luxury and what luxuries are taxable. There are articles named in the law which will be construed out of the law, and there are articles not named in the law which will be taxed or untaxed according to the whim of the clerks or the instructions of their employers.

THE AVERAGE MAN.

THE average man was buried on yesterday. He had the average funeral. However, neither of these things is what we really want to say. Neither of them is in the least important. The thing we want to say—the important thing—is that when the average man was buried his prejudices went underground with him.

He had made the average collection of prejudices. They covered the average range. They had long ago removed him from any great usefulness in the world. They had come to pain and embarrass many of his friends. So they were buried; and while many people sincerely grieved the passing of the man, they were all glad to see his prejudices end. They were glad to see the average man's prejudices end.

He left some money, which he shared with others. His prejudices he shared with no one. Happily, they could not be detached from him—a thing which, as one of his friends said on returning from the funeral, fairly reconciles one to death.

The average man himself would gladly have left them to a museum. He cherished them. They were nothing that anyone else cared about; they had no value—no use. Still, he cherished them—the average man.

It was singular how he accumulated his prejudices. He was a good man. He had a good heart. He had a good mind. Just where it was he slipped into the midst of those who collect something one could not say. However, he became quite an enthusiastic collector. He had a fine collection of prejudices, if one could call such a thing fine. Some of them were rare. Others were quite common. He was worth looking through. It was the average old curiosity shop, with one or two things comparable to the rarest in the collection, of which no collector is permitted to take away more than two specimens.

As is the case on the average, the average man's strongest prejudice was against change. His prejudice against that became his hobby. He exhibited it upon every possible occasion. However, it was so commonplace that it attracted almost no attention. We all care little about what we all have in common. Like us, the average man sought always to perpetuate his own time; and, like us, he and his time were engulfed by another time—the way of this world, which is without end.

The average man had a rather strange prejudice against people. He carried the average number in this category, but his prejudice against them was a little above the average in strength. One learned to be careful about whom one mentioned. That had become an irritable prejudice. It fed upon the people against whom he was prejudiced until they were to him devoured by it—nothing.

That was the thing, so the minister frankly said at the funeral, which really did for him. It destroyed him as a cog in the great human machine. It was not possible to place him in any considerable circle in which there were not two or three people against whom he was so prejudiced that he couldn't work with them.

So, finally, he dropped out of everything—did nothing—exactly as the average man does. Was there anything worth while in the world that men had done or were doing? If so, it was not his fault—the average man. After he was buried, two or three people walked around his grave thoughtfully.

They were not moved to do so by any special grief.

No, dear reader. They were just making sure that every one of his prejudices had gone underground—which was the important thing—the big thing—the reason why a bird sang in a tree on the night overhead when the thing was done.

One of our readers wants to know what became of the recall. It got as far as the Board of Election Commissioners. However, it served a very admirable purpose. We have in consequence of it getting only as far as that the most accommodating and serving Mayor in the United States. He will almost come out and rock the baby for you if you want to go out. Did the Mayor deserve to be recalled? Well, have you a baby?

"Poor Jones! The consequence of having money."

"Not at all, my dear. The consequence of not having ever had any money before."

First Impressions of Terms in Washington

View Appears to Be General That President Has Won on Two of His Main Contentions.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Following publication of the official summary of the terms of the treaty of Versailles, the questions being asked here are:

"How does it affect America? Will the Senate ratify it? Will Germany accept it?"

Official Washington, with the President and the Secretary of State in Paris, Congress in adjournment and many leaders on both sides absent is rather devoid of authoritative expression on the first two questions. For the third the generally accepted opinion seems to be that the Germans will accept the convention, but that it may require economic pressure to bring about the fulfillment of some of its terms.

One point generally accepted at first glance is that President Wilson has successfully carried out his determination that the league of nations covenant should be an inseparable part of the peace treaty and that the whole document must stand intact as it comes up for ratification or rejection. Of course, the Senate might easily in the resolution expressing its action make reservations on any portions which it does not approve.

Effect of Any Rejection. Another point which seems to be evident to those studying the summary is that the rejection of the treaty by any single nation would only have the effect of delaying the restoration of relations between that nation and Germany, while nations which do accept the treaty will enjoy the advantage of opening up trade and commerce with the remnant of the great central European Powers. Some observers are inclined to regard this feature as a formidable agency in the hands of the President when he urges the acceptance of the treaty by the United States.

The probabilities are that the forces in Congress, for and against the treaty, will begin to line up and show themselves in the next few days and take on a more definite position, as the full text of the record-breaking lengthy document becomes available.

Quite beside the questions relating to the league of nations plan will come the provisions suggesting a special arrangement by which the United States and Great Britain would go to the aid of France, the clauses which China insists give territory rightfully hers to Japan, the involved and technical provisions of the economic sections, on which the advice of experts doubtless will be sought, and a score of other points all of which promise to furnish the material for a history-making session of the Senate, if not, indeed, both houses of Congress.

President Wilson's call for the extraordinary session of Congress to assemble May 19 already is bringing the national legislators toward Washington. In the few days before the session opens there will be conferences of Republicans and Democrats, some of the former supporting the peace treaty and some of the latter opposing it, which will define the lines on which the great issue will be fought out.

Congress Can Declare War Over. If the contest is protracted and other nations, by accepting the treaty, should be gaining the advantage of trade, a pressure put on the United States in position to participate is expected. It is being pointed out that whether the Senate ratifies the treaty or not, Congress can declare the war with Germany at an end if it chooses by passing a joint resolution to that effect. That action would return the country to a peace basis and leave the treaty question to be fought out.

When President Wilson returns to the United States—possibly by the first of June—he will begin what may turn out to be the greatest of contests between the executive and the Senate. It is possible that he may carry his case directly to the people, before the Senate has opportunity to act, by making a tour throughout the country speaking for the ratification of the treaty. The President is originally intended to do this, between his first and second trips to France, but he was obliged to alter his plans because he had to return to Paris sooner than he expected.

The fact that the President faces a Republican Congress is generally conceded to have little to do with the issue. There has been a marked tendency of late on both sides to openly declare the question to be a nonpartisan one, and it is known that the President is counting on the support of some Republicans and has already accepted the opposition of some Democrats.

50 RECEIVE CLEMENCY
FROM THE PRESIDENT

All Were Sentenced Under the Espionage Law—But One Full Pardon Granted.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Fifty more persons convicted during the war for violation of the espionage act have been granted clemency by President Wilson on recommendation of Attorney-General Palmer in pursuance of the recently announced policy of being lenient to those who have already served a year or more in prison, and whose sentences in the stress of war times now appear excessive.

But one complete pardon was given, according to the announcement today by the Department of Justice, to a woman, Mrs. Jacob J. Schick, of Dakota, two years, six months, on release from St. Elizabeth's Hospital; Joseph Nichols, Arizona, 18 months, one year, one day; Perley J. Burns, Arizona, two years, one year, one day; E. H. Kirchner, Northern West Virginia, two years, pardon; Robert Edwards, Western Pennsylvania, 18 months, time served; John L. Gehl, Northern California, five years, one year, one day; Minnie Gehl, Northern California, one year, time served.

Others Granted Clemency.

Others granted clemency, with the district where they were convicted, the original sentence and the commuted sentence respectively are as follows:

John Kiderowski, Northern California, 10 years, three years, Victor Privat, Eastern Oklahoma, two years, time served; L. Perkins, Northern California, two years, one year, one day; Frank Beal, Southern Iowa, three years, 18 months; August Weissel, Northern Illinois, 10 years, one year, one day; David Gerdes, Northern Illinois, 10 years, one year, one day; G. M. Strode, Arizona, two years, time served; John Douglas, Southern Ohio, three years, time served; Charles Spitzer, Hawaii, 10 years, three years; Otto Bruno Reichelt, New Jersey, eight years, one year, one day; Charles C. Young, Connecticut, one year, one day, time served; John Malich, Northern West Virginia, two years, one year, one day; E. W. Fitzwater, Northern California, five years, time served; Charles F. WILSON AND TAFT IN TRIBUTES
TO LIFE WORK OF ARMY NURSE

Distinguished Company Present at Memorial to Miss Delano, Director of Red Cross Nursing Service.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Tributes from President Wilson and former President Taft to the life work of Miss Jane A. Delano, formerly director-general of the nursing service of the American Red Cross, who died at a base hospital in France, April 15, were among the many read last night at memorial services for the nursing service held at the White House. Cabinet members, Justices of the Supreme Court, officers of the army and navy and national and divisional officials of the Red Cross.

A feature of the ceremony was the posthumously awarding of the distinguished service medal to Miss Delano, who was the last of her family. As there was no relative to receive the medal, Secretary of War Baker presented it to Dr. Livingston Farrand, chairman of the central committee, and it will be framed and hung in the department of nursing at Red Cross headquarters. President Wilson's message in appreciation of Miss Delano's work said: "In common with all who were acquainted with the work of Miss Jane A. Delano, I most deeply and sincerely deplore her loss and devoted herself in the most unselfish manner to a great work and gave her life for it."

I once was unwise enough to approach a really intelligent married woman with my acquaintance for several evenings, in a card-table with quite the most pld, empty-headed couple either or I knew.

Her lustrous brown eyes shone a glance of mingled astonishment and reproach.

"Why, Tom and I have to do a thing," she exclaimed, her italics the last word. "Of course if he had a lot of money we go to the opera or the theatre parties every evening. Since can't, we have to amuse ourselves some way."

It is only a short step from hectic carelessness of young married persons to communism. If a husband and wife are willing to share all their hours with the rest of the world, demur at sharing teaspoons toothbrushes?

What is called matrimony, joyriding—married life which is one party after another—is dangerous for several reasons. It is much of a strain on the nerves, costs money, even when it can afford to be a supremely happy marriage.

And many a little journey of American matrimony, begun with the fairest prospects, has been wrecked during its first quarter-decade by hitting too fast a pace.

"When we were engaged," a bride of six months said to me recently, with a certain plainness, "I had at least three evenings a week with Tom. Now I haven't any. Oh, of course, we are together, but there are always the others. If we are not asked out to play bridge, or someone doesn't come in to try the new rolls on the player-piano, Tom suggests that we telephone our acquaintances until we find two who will make an impromptu party for the movies and a chafing dish supper afterwards."

"I used to dream of the time," she added, "when we could have long, quiet evenings reading or just—just getting acquainted with each other. But I suppose that sort of thing bores men after they are married."

It bores many young wives too. At least, they think they would die of ennui if they could not go out every evening or "have people" in their apartments or suburban homes. They take their married life as American husbands used to take European picture-galleries on the run. With a patient husband in tow, these wives pass their evenings and Sundays rushing from one alleged diversion to another, and they measure their happiness by the number of their social engagements. They forget the music of marriage is arranged for a duet—not a quartet or a chorus.

I once was unwise enough to reproach a really intelligent young married woman of my acquaintance for spending many hours at the card-table with quite the most capable, empty-headed couple either she or I knew.

job as home maker and the young husband is working harder than ever before to "make good," the result will be tired nerves, irritability and first quarrels.

Hospitality is a delightful part of life, and the young wife, remembering her mother's traditions and desirous of showing her new home and its equipment, naturally will desire to entertain her friends. But again, the modern living conditions being what they are, she cannot entertain a great deal—and she must do it if she accepts a great many invitations—without spending a sum out of income. The cost in money of the simplest luncheons and chafing-dish suppers cannot be small today.

Joyriders, for the sake of an illusory sense of excitement, rush through a country they never even see. Two who "speed up" marriages never discover marriage, which is the slow, beautiful unfolding of a unique relationship. No matter how ardently a man and woman love each other, it is the years of close association, the happy evenings in front of the fire, the tete-a-tete dinners, the intimate sharing of ideas and hopes—the nearness to each other, the apartness from the rest of the world—which make marriage a success. Too many cooks spoil the broth; too many friends and parties spoil the marriage.

If you are married to the man or woman you love, life holds possibilities so much more thrilling than the social joyride. When you two begin to find out the fun it is just to play around together, you will not wait, except once in awhile, to ask other people to play with you. They will seem like the evidence the court throws out—incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial. (Copyright, 1915, by the Press Pub. Co.)

Know Your Child

By
DR. J. H. FRANCIS

Of the United States Bureau of Education.

NO TWO children are alike—not even twin sisters. Any effort to make them so is wicked and wasteful. Courses of study administered to all children in the same way are destructive of originality and initiative. Uniformity of treatment is deadly and deadening.

Every normal child has possibilities in some things. To help him to discover and develop them is the greatest service society can render him and itself. To study about a child is not to know the individual child. Traditions, customs, preconceived notions of habit and conduct must be subordinated if not eliminated, while studying the child. Fraternize with him, associate with him, be a good fellow with him and study him. But do not let him know you are doing this.

There is no other study so fascinating, so absorbingly interesting. Study him. He will surprise you every day with what he knows and can do. Really he will teach you some things worth knowing; that is, if you are in a mood to learn. First of all, the child is a little animal. He needs food fit to eat, clothes fit to wear and a house fit to live in. But he is also eminently spiritual and needs spirits fit to associate with.

The child fears as naturally as he eats or grows. Thus he needs mental food. Also if he does not thrive on what is found in his home or school change his mental diet. It will do him good and may help you. Fear is one of the most withering curses of all ages. Don't try to scare him. Cultivate his hope, faith and courage. He will need these qualities later. The fact that they are rare does not lessen their value.

The Magnificent Ambersons

An Epic of the Rise of an American City

By BOOTH TARKINGTON,

AMELIA became shrill. "I thought you were a man of the world; don't tell me you're blind. For nearly two years Isabel's been pretending to chaperone Fanny Minafer with Eugene, and all the time she's been dragging that poor fool Fanny around to chaperon her and Eugene. Under the circumstances, she knows people will get to thinking Fanny's a pretty slim kind of chaperon, and Isabel wants to please George because she thinks there'll be less talk if she can keep her own brother around, seeming to approve. 'Talk' she'd better look out! The whole town will be talking, the first thing she knows! She!"

Amelia stopped, and stared at the doorway in a panic, for her nephew stood there. She kept her eyes upon his white face for a few strained moments, then, regarding him with a look away and shrugged her shoulders. "You weren't intended to hear what I've been saying, George," she said quietly. "But since you seem to—"

"Yes, I did." "So!" She shrugged her shoulders again. "After all, I don't know but it's just as well, in the long run." He walked up to where she sat. "You—your hearing is thick. It seems—it seems to me you're—you're pretty common!"

Amelia tried to give the impression of an unconcerned person laughing with complete indifference, but the sounds she produced were disjointed and uneasy. She fanned herself, looking out of the open window near her. "Of course, if you want to make more trouble in the family than we've already got, George, with your eavesdropping, you can go and repeat—"

Old Bronson had risen from his chair in great distress. "Your aunt was talking nonsense because she's plucked over a business matter, George," he said. "She doesn't mean what she said, and neither she nor anyone else gives the slightest credit to such foolishness—no one in the world!"

George gulped, and wet lines shown suddenly along his eyelids. "They—they'd better not!" he said, then stalked out of the room, and out of the house. He stamped fiercely across the stone slabs of the front porch, descended the steps, and halted abruptly, blinking in the strong sunshine.

In front of his own gate, beyond the Major's broad lawn, his mother was just getting into her victoria, where sat already his Aunt Fanny and Lucy Morgan. It was a sumptuous fashion-dressed, delicate parcels aloft; the lines of the victoria graceful as those of a violin; the trim pair of horses in glistening harness picked out with silver, and the serious black driver whom Isabel, being an Amberson, dared even in that town to put into a black coat, boots, white breeches and coaco-

WHAT has become of the old-fashioned silver dollar? asks an inquisitive neighbor. It's too bulky for these prosperous democratic times. It's too cumbersome for down-trodden laboring man to hurry home his week's wages in a bushel sack every pay-day, would you?—Akron Times.

Worms Show Good Taste

THE chickadees will eat out of your hand if you show him that you have something good to eat and he is not already pretty well satisfied, for he is a sociable, fearless and responsible little fellow, says the American Forestry Association, Washington, which is conducting the national bird-house building contest that school children are entering into with great enthusiasm. Another thing is that if you whistle to the chickadee he will invariably respond, which is more than can be said of most other birds. The chickadee braves the winter cold and remains even when the snow makes it hard for him to find much food. The top and back of his head is jet black and there is a big black spot also on his throat, while the rest of the bird is shaded from white to gray and buff.

Try dipping liver in milk before frying. It will fry a nice brown and will not be hard.

War's Effect on Play

Playground and Recreation Association Year Book
Notes Increased Demand for Opportunities for Use of Leisure Time.

WHILE the general effect of the war upon playgrounds is still an open question, there is no doubt that this country has been awakened by the war to a keener sense of the importance of recreation centers, according to the 1915 Year Book of the Playground and Recreation Association of America just issued. The demand for opportunities to play after work hours is as widespread as it is encouraging. There has been a marked increase during the year both in the centers for evening recreation and the attendance there.

Unquestionably the fact that 35 per cent of the men in the first draft were rejected as physically unfit has made Americans realize how essential is the progress in recreation work. The report of the Association shows that more than 750 playgrounds were open the year round and evening recreation work was conducted in more than 700 schools of cities. More than 8000 trained men and women were engaged in directing play at recreation centers throughout the country.

For colored children alone more than 100 playgrounds were maintained. Three hundred swimming pools, 400 public baths and 200 public bathing beaches were used by thousands of persons.

The effect of the war upon playgrounds and recreation was reported by 277 cities, 172 of which give the result as unfavorable. The decrease in attendance is attributed to the fact that many of the older citizens were working in factories. Moreover, it was hard to get trained, competent leaders because of the number of men who went into the service of their country and of women who were engaged in war work. In many cases, appropriations were cut down, playground funds were devoted to war garden activities and the playgrounds themselves were used by war agencies.

But 105 cities reported that the war so far from checking recreation work, had stimulated it. The attendance of small children increased, as did that of their elders at the evening sessions. Appropriations were enlarged and more centers established. The number of cities initiating such work was smaller than in 1917, being reduced to 20, but those cities which continued the work called for a greater number of leaders to conduct their greater activities.

On the whole, the year of 1915 shows many gains. Everywhere community leaders and citizens participated in community singing, pageants and special community gatherings. Especially were they brought to realize what recreation, directed by trained leaders, meant to the men in uniform. This realization has given momentum to the recreation movement all over the United States.

The Association reports that complete returns from 356 cities show that they maintained 2811 playgrounds and neighborhood centers under paid leadership. In 281 of these cities the work was administered wholly or in part by some department of a municipality; that is, 70.9 per cent of the total and an increase of 10 per cent over 1917. In addition to municipal activities, centers were maintained by Playground and Recreation Associations, Leagues, Civic Clubs and Associations, Improvement Clubs, Parent-Teachers' Associations and Home School Leagues, the Y. M. C. A., and Y. W. C. A., Playground Committees, Social Service Leagues, Welfare and Relief Associations, Settlements, Chautauqua Associations, Art Clubs, Athletic Leagues, Neighborhood Associations and Councils of Defense.

"Made in Lithuania"

DO YOU remember those goose-breasts, succulent food, mysteriously prepared, that used to come to you in parcels marked "Made in Germany?"

They were not really made in Germany. For the geese from which they came were grown in Lithuania, that small Baltic republic which has been oppressed systematically by Germany and brutally by Russia during several centuries. Lithuania is asking America to recognize its independence.

Derby Sharps Slip It to Us That Bugle Call Has a Chance, if He Doesn't Blow

Toledo Officials Decline to O K Rickard's Referee

Promoter Would Like to Name Matt Hinkel Third Man at Title Contest.

PICTURE PROBLEM SOLVED

By Holding Bout in Ohio, Films Can Be Exported to Canada Profitably.

TOLEDO, O., May 7.—Despite the fact that Tex Rickard favors Matt Hinkel of Cleveland for referee of the Willard-Dempsey 12-round bout here and that Cleveland boxing men are working hard in his behalf, he doesn't stand a ghost of a show of being the third man in the ring, as the members of the Toledo Boxing Commission, which will exercise their rights in this bout, are all flatly opposed to Hinkel's officiating.

The Cleveland men are using an "Ohio referee for a championship in Ohio," as their slogan. The boxing Commission's grievance against Hinkel is one of long standing. Hinkel, they say, has always done his best to buck the boxing game here and to make light of their rulings against boxers who have appeared here and been suspended from further bouts for foul tactics or stalling.

At one time Toledo threatened to withdraw from the Association of Ohio Boxing Commissioners because of Hinkel's activities against the Toledo board.

A. Q. Thatcher, president of the Toledo Athletic Club, under whose auspices Rickard will stage the fight, also is bitterly opposed to Hinkel. "My case against Hinkel is a personal one," said Thatcher tonight. "I have no use for him, and, believe me, if I have anything to say, he will not officiate."

Thatcher expects Rickard and Frank Flounoury to arrive here Friday. In the meantime, he is busy getting a line on 1,000,000 feet of lumber to be utilized in the construction of the arena.

Fortune Possible in Fight Pictures. Did Rickard make a 10-strike when he selected Toledo, a city in a border state, as the site of his big fight extravaganza?

So it would seem. It will be possible for Rickard to take the moving pictures of the Jess Willard-Jack Dempsey bout into Canada and therefore into the United States.

In interior state would this have been possible. Pictures of boxing contests cannot be taken from one state to another under the law, due to the act of Congress forbidding the reproduction of encounters between through interstate commerce. The act of Congress did not forbid the exportation of the pictures.

Lawrence McGuire, a well-known real estate man, and Jimmy Johnson were indicted for bringing film reproductions of the Johnson-Willard bout into New York state.

Tried in Syracuse before Judge George W. Hay, the jury disagreed. The late George Connelley, president of the Government before Judge Hough for admission of the Ritchie and Walsh picture, was taken from England. In a lengthy opinion, Judge Hough denied the application.

The owners of the Johnson-Willard pictures carried the case to the United States Supreme Court. That court refused admission.

Canada Outlet for Pictures. The movies of the Willard-Dempsey bout can be shipped into Canada across Lake Erie, to be exhibited all over the world, and of necessity cannot conflict with the Federal law. Once out of the border, but the pictures would earn close to a million dollars.

In the trial of the indictment against McGuire and Johnson at Syracuse the defense pleaded that they did not transport any physical object over the border, but that the picture was protected across the State line by means of a ray of light. Judge Hay illumined the picture with another ray of judicial light and disagreed with the experts for the defense, and the jury also disagreed, but Johnson and McGuire agreed "never again."

NATIONAL LEAGUE TO REARRANGE SCHEDULE OF EASTERN CONTINENTS. NEW YORK, May 8.—A special meeting of the National League it is expected will be called within a few days by President John A. Heydler, to rearrange the schedule of Sunday games in this city. The National and American Leagues have agreed to divide the Sunday dates at the Polo Grounds so that each circuit will have 21 Sundays.

The National League Sundays are as follows: May 18 and 25; June 13, 20 and 27; August 12 and 24; Sept. 7 and 28.

The American League Sundays are: May 11, June 2, 9, 16, 23, 30, 31; Sept. 14, 21, 28.

Next Sunday, the Giants will play at Ebbets Field against the Cincinnati club will play at the Polo Grounds. The dates after that have not been fixed and it is likely that wherever possible dates will be moved forward from the end of the schedule. Both President Heydler and President Johnson are said to favor this plan.

ALEXANDER SCHEDULED TO FACE REDS TODAY. CHICAGO, May 8.—Grover Cleveland Alexander, recently of the American Expeditionary Forces, is listed to pitch today in the opening game of a three-day series against the Cincinnati National League team—weather permitting.

"Bill" Alexander is authority for the statement that the big pitcher is "in good shape." The catcher added that Alexander practice Alexander was "putting" the same old curve that brought him fame in the days before he quit ball playing for overseas war service.

Frogtown May Prove to Be Another Exterminator

W. S. Kilmer, Whose Eleventh-Hour Purchase Won Last Year's Classic, "Buys in" Again, Under Similar Conditions, for $7500—Candidate Shows Good Workout.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 8.—In an effort to make turf history repeat itself, Willis Sharpe Kilmer, the Eastern millionaire, through his trainer Henry McDaniel has purchased Frogtown, the brown three-year-old son of Magneto-Beth Miller, and the gelding will carry the Binghamton turfman's colors in the Kentucky derby, which will be decided at Churchill Downs, Saturday afternoon.

Last year Kilmer bought Exterminator from J. C. Miam, a few days before the running of the classic and won the big event with him and he has since turned out to be one of the best race horses in America. This year Kilmer had no worthy representative to send to the post in the derby, so he again went to considerable expense to get one.

Frogtown is a shifty sort of a distance runner and his latest workout was one and one quarter miles in 2:07 2-5, yesterday. He can run in any of the going and it remains to be seen what he will do against the cracks on Saturday. As a two-year-old Frogtown faced the barrier seven times but was only returned a winner in one event, and that victory was scored against a cheap band of racers. He finished third once and was outside the money in his other five starts. Kilmer thinks highly of Frogtown and paid $7500 for the gelding, the same amount of money he handed over for Exterminator about the same time last year.

The betting is 15 to 1 against Frogtown.

Sir Barton is Fine Fettle. The most sensational workout of any of the Derby candidates thus far was reeled off late yesterday afternoon when Sir Barton, the property of Commander J. K. L. Ross and a brilliant mile and a quarter over the historic Downs course. His trial was sensational in every respect and one that set the old clockers to thinking.

Sir Barton reeled off the Derby distance in 2:07. Cal Shilling, the former star jockey, was aboard Sir Barton and scaled at 120 pounds. On returning to the barn Shilling was heard to remark: "Take it from me, here is one Derby candidate that I feel is given serious consideration for the classic on Saturday. He went alone in the morning and he did this afternoon and only once did I urge him and he responded like a real good racer. I am positive that I could have sent Sir Barton along in better time if I had urged him just a little bit more."

As the Ross representative will have a 10-pound maiden allowance in the derby, his sensational workout causes him to loom up as a most dangerous contender.

Billy Kelly broke with his stable mate but only a mile and a half, eighth, covering the distance in 1:54, both Sir Barton and Billy Kelly are in the pink condition and there are some to go to the post and many are predicting that they will duplicate the performance of Regret, in 1915. Regret, who won the Ashland Oaks and Bluegrass stakes at Lexington and won going away from her field. She is due to start a strenuous workout this afternoon.

Be Frank, the property of C. M. Garrison, which arrived here Tuesday, was given a workout yesterday afternoon and he went a mile and a quarter in 2:11, which is considered pretty fair time in view of the fact that he has only been at the Downs course for a day.

St. Bernard, one of the dark horses which made a good impression during the Lexington meeting, went the same distance in 2:12. He also looks good and may be a hard one to beat. St. Bernard is owned by the Ashland Oaks and Bluegrass stakes at Lexington and won going away from her field. She is due to start a strenuous workout this afternoon.

Local railroad offices are undergoing a heavy demand. St. Louis will send a large delegation to the Derby, the advance demand for reservations exceeding that of former years.

Plunge on Vindex to Win Derby Sends His Price Down to 4 to 1. FUTURE book odds on the Kentucky Derby wired to interested racing enthusiasts here last night showed that a heavy plunge had set in on Vindex, hammering his price down to 4 to 1, close to that of the favorites, Billy Kelly and Exterminator, now quoted at 2 1/2 to 1. At one time Vindex was 30 to 1 in the betting. Vindex is owned by Harry Payne Whitney and is trained by James Rowe.

Regalo, the only filly entered that is likely to start, was also the medium of a plunge. Her price has been hammered down by pressure of money to 10 to 1, a drop of 20 points.

Sir Barton, a stable companion of Billy Kelly, is quoted separately at 10 to 1. This is the first time Sir Barton is in with a 10-pound maiden allowance which has attracted some followers.

Feeble Pitching Has Kept Tigers in Last Position

Jennings' Twirlers Have Allowed an Average of 5.31 Runs a Game This Season.

That batters alone cannot win ball games is clearly evidenced by the showing of the Detroit Tigers, who are here to play their first series of the season, opening whenever weather permits. The Tigers have the batters, but lack the pitchers, and as a result Jennings' crew is trailing the American League with three victories in 11 starts.

The Tigers to date have seven of 11 regulars who are batting over .300, while one of them, Harry Heilmann, is batting .415. There are in the select circle Art Ty Cobb, who has a .311 mark; Bob Veach, .324; Chick Shorten, .375; Eddie Ainsmith, .357; Ira Flagstead, .332, and Bert Ellison, .323. The only Tiger regulars who are not in the .300 club are Bush, Jones, Young and Stanage.

But even with this slugging aggregation, the Detroit club is unable to win ball games. The reason for this is found with the twirlers. In the 11 battles played to date the mound artists used by Jennings have permitted 56 runs in 55 innings, an average of 5.31 per game.

Pitchers Way Off Form. All of which shows that the batters in every game must pound out six or more markers to win. This the Junglers have done in each of the winning games, except one, the first of the season when Howard Egan stopped the Indians, 4-2. The other two victories, also over Cleveland, have come by 4-1 and 14-0 counts.

Practice Games Show South Side Athletes Have Best Chance in Title Games.

Soldan athletes defeated Central High School track representatives 48 1/2 to 23 1/2, and the Cleveland junior team was victor over the East St. Louis squad, 49-46, in two practice meets held yesterday afternoon at Washington University Stadium.

The fact that Washington athletes entered in every race of the Central-Soldan affair to get experience, intensified the confusion resulting from the effort to run two meets at the same time.

The promised feature, a 104-yard dash between Bremser and Calhoun did not take place, as Bremser arrived late at the field and remained only a few minutes. The failure of track team of the season and the arrival, combined with a cold afternoon and delay in getting through the other events, put Bremser in bad spirits and he left the meet without competing.

In place of the promised event, a special open 100 was held between Trumm of Cleveland, Auer of Washington, Calhoun of Soldan, Drake of Washington and Harvey of Central. They finished in the order named, to time, 1:12.5, 1:13.5, 1:14.5, 1:15.5, 1:16.5.

McKinley Athletes Favored. The only unusual time recorded yesterday afternoon was the 220 meter registered by Malcolm Calhoun of Soldan, whose performance in that event was 2:58. The results of the meet seem to confirm the opinion formed after the meet last Saturday that McKinley has the best-balanced track team of the season and that Castleman's red and white entry will be a sure winner in the interschool race, as the placed, in 5m 11s.

April 7 she sprinted 51 yards in 5:4.5. April 12 she did 100 yards on the back in 1m 21.5s, international time, in a closed meet.

May 15, in Pittsburgh, competing in the national 150-yard backstroke championship, she finished within inches of Miss Ruth Smith, of Columbus, who set a world's mark of 2m 17.5s, and herself beat the former figure.

May 19, after a sleepless night on the train, in a day coach, for a single Tobin, she captured the Brighton Beach, N. Y., 75-foot pool, the 500-yard national free style title, covering the course in 1m 40.1s.

May 23, she won the 100-yard backstroke championship, in a closed meet, in 1m 21.5s, international time, in a closed meet.

May 27, she won the 100-yard backstroke championship, in a closed meet, in 1m 21.5s, international time, in a closed meet.

May 31, she won the 100-yard backstroke championship, in a closed meet, in 1m 21.5s, international time, in a closed meet.

June 4, she won the 100-yard backstroke championship, in a closed meet, in 1m 21.5s, international time, in a closed meet.

June 8, she won the 100-yard backstroke championship, in a closed meet, in 1m 21.5s, international time, in a closed meet.

June 12, she won the 100-yard backstroke championship, in a closed meet, in 1m 21.5s, international time, in a closed meet.

June 16, she won the 100-yard backstroke championship, in a closed meet, in 1m 21.5s, international time, in a closed meet.

June 20, she won the 100-yard backstroke championship, in a closed meet, in 1m 21.5s, international time, in a closed meet.

June 24, she won the 100-yard backstroke championship, in a closed meet, in 1m 21.5s, international time, in a closed meet.

June 28, she won the 100-yard backstroke championship, in a closed meet, in 1m 21.5s, international time, in a closed meet.

July 2, she won the 100-yard backstroke championship, in a closed meet, in 1m 21.5s, international time, in a closed meet.

SANDMAN STORY
FOR TONIGHTBy Mrs. F. A. Walker.
The Little Hero.

ONE summer's day in a playroom the gentle breeze was floating in through an open window and swinging the soft muslin curtains back and forth.

Right under the window was a seat and on it stood Paper Sailor Boy his little hat just reaching the edge of the swinging curtain.

And then all at once it happened: The curtain caught his hat and as the hat did not come off because it was made right on Paper Boy's head, cut the window went Sailor Boy with the curtain end.

When the curtain swung back into the playroom Paper Boy was not on the end of it.

He was on the top of a very tall tree which reached to the sill of the window and there he sat looking right into the playroom.

A big Mooly Cow on wheels stood on a table near the window. She was dozing when it happened, but later when she opened her eyes and saw Paper Boy sitting on the top of the tree she almost moaned out loud.

By and by she thought she saw him fall, but when he told his story later she did not contradict him; and this is the story she heard Paper Boy tell.

"Of course, you all will have to take my word for what I shall tell you," said Paper Boy that night when the clock struck the magic hour: "I can only show you my soiled clothes to prove I have done this brave deed."

"Oh, dear me," laughed Marie Doll, "who ever heard of a paper doll doing any real brave thing, but we will listen—what did you do?"

"Why, I climbed this tree outside the window and sat on the top branch," said Paper Boy with a brave air.

"Oh, hear him," laughed Jumping Jack; "why he could not do it; his legs are so thin."

The Necessary Warning.

An advertisement in the Berlin Megendorfer Blatt reads: "Canary bird escaped. Return to Barbarossa Strasse 5 and receive reasonable reward. (Not edible.)"

And this story also comes from Berlin, where profits become exceedingly narrow.

"Fish and potatoes were served at the restaurant, both in the singular number, and the portion miserably small."

"Nevertheless, my neighbor got a bone in his throat and attracted general attention with his coughing and groaning. Some persons came to his help, suggesting that he swallow several pieces of dry bread or a few potatoes."

"The waiter ran out and brought four big potatoes. The patient swallowed them one after another, poured in his glass of beer to keep them down, and then he felt better."

"When he was about to leave I asked how he felt."

"Oh, it's nothing, thank you," was the answer, "after pulling off the same trick in the next restaurant, I shall get enough."—Journal of the American Medical Association.

HOW did Constable Slackpatter get hurt?" asked the washing machine agent.

"He says he was run over by a bunch of joy riders," replied the landlady of the Petunia Tavern. "But there is a hoarse rumor going around that he fell asleep while cranking a lady's Ford, and she, thinking he was through with the job, started forward and surged against him, as they say in stories."—Kansas City Star.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—The Treasury Department today notified officially the claims of the St. Louis district of having earned Victory Liberty Loan quota by exceeding subscriptions of $17,000,000 and thereby winning the honor of being the first district to acquire its quota.

While the St. Louis district was officially recognized as the first to reach its quota, the district was pressing its claims for a record. District's record reached the Treasury early in the morning of May 7, when the 100 per cent mark had been reached. The Colorado State (which had reached its quota) and the St. Louis district were the only districts to reach their quotas.

In going over the top and reaching the quota, the St. Louis district made good on its "Make It Three Straight," led the country in the Fourth Liberty Loans.

Not only that, but the district had made good on its "Make It Three Straight," led the country in the Fourth Liberty Loans. The district's quota was $17,000,000. It is assured the final returns are in, and the district will have its quota by a considerable margin.
